PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

An Open Letter to California State Legislators

By Earl Haugen, President
CIF-SS Executive Committee

Everyone knows the State of California has many problems. High School sports and activities are not a problem. They are a tremendous boost to education and the extra curricular opportunities they provide for hundreds of thousands of students. This communication is to let you know what is right with sports and activities in high schools in the State of California.

The California Interscholastic Federation Southern Section (CIF-SS) is the largest of ten sections governing high school athletics and activities in California. There are more than 560 schools, 84 leagues and approximately 300,000 student/athletes served. Although sections obviously vary in size and locale, the athletes, parents, coaches, athletic directors, administrators, and anyone else connected with sports and activities are all intense, competitive and love to win. Making sure all sections monitor and oversee rules, changes, appeals, and disagreements is the responsibility of each section's commissioner's office.

Local governance is of the utmost importance. The State Commissioner's Office keeps all the sections in line and all state policies, regulations and guidelines are enforced from the state level on down.

The reason local governance is crucial is because our state varies greatly from section to section. Population, geography, elevation and ethnicity are only a few of the factors.

The CIF has a tremendous amount of people dedicated to high school athletics and activities. Many of these people have a wealth of knowledge and experience, putting those attributes to work everyday. Each section has a board or an executive committee that oversees each commissioner's office. A majority of these people are high school principals who value academics first and know how beneficial sports and activities are to the total school experience.

Please support the California Interscholastic Federation. The make up of each of the ten sections and how they locally govern themselves is a vital part of the total state organization. With continued cooperation between the sections, the state office and legislators, we can only grow stronger. The organization is dedicated, enthusiastic and willing to go the extra distance for student/athletes.

SOUTHERN SECTION MARKETING UPDATEYOUR ASSISTANCE SAVES YOU MONEY*PLAYOFF PARTICIPATION REQUIREMENTS

A friendly reminder that your teams must do the following during the playoffs:

- * Use the mandatory Official Ball or lose your next home game opportunity
 - * TOYOTA Championships banner must be displayed at the game (each school will receive a new banner for the 6th consecutive year this November.)
 - * Gatorade jugs, cups and water bottle or similar with NO MARKING. Powerade, Coke and other non-Gatorade jugs, cups and water bottles are prohibited during playoffs.
 - * Read the Public Address Announcements from the CIF-SS. As the host of a CIF-SS playoff game, this is required and must be prioritized ahead of any 'school' announcements.
- Your assistance is required and beneficial to the entire section; our marketing program will generate $550,000 for the section this year; that saves your school $1,000 this year.

NEW CIFSS TV POLICY SUCCEEDING

Our new 'college conference' cooperative TV model has begun to pay dividends already in just the first year. Contracts with Fox Sports, KDOC TV and two web cast groups will result in over 50 regional and national broadcasts this year. The coverage is becoming much more regional throughout the section and is bringing a unique excitement to more schools than ever. Schools participating in regular season broadcasts should not be incurring any direct expenses for accommodating or staffing these TV games. This spring the CIF-SS will distribute to our schools appearing in regular season TV games over $30,000 in rights fees with the actual amount depending on which TV outlet the game is shown. We are most pleased that at least three girl's sport championships will be broadcast on TV throughout Southern California.

SPORT CHALET TEAM SALES FOR ALL SPORTS

Sport Chalet Team Sales continues as our official sporting goods partner and offers all our member schools 'team sales' pricing and service in all sports. They guarantee next day delivery on ball orders. If you are looking for last second balls to shoes and uniforms, Sport Chalet Team Sales has regional reps to service your school. Give them a competitive opportunity if you are looking for a change at 800-250-4923 or www.scteamsales.com.

RUSSELL ATHLETICS - QUALITY PARTNER

Our newest partner, Russell Athletics, is already a large provider of athletic uniforms and apparel throughout the Southern Section. Russell Athletics has recently created some nice incentive opportunities for our schools that purchase Russell product through your local sporting goods provider. Be sure to ask about the Russell Athletics uniforms and clothing as you begin purchasing your equipment for the next season.

TOYOTA CHAMPIONSHIP BANNERS

Be sure those banners are displayed at your home playoff games. It is a $1,00 issue to each of our schools and so simple to do. Thanks and good luck in the fall playoffs.

COMMISSIONER'S CORNER

Welcome
Back

By James Staunton, Ed.D.
CIF-SS Commissioner of Athletics

Welcome to a new school year. 2006-2007 holds great promise for the athletic community. This year our Section begins a new league cycle and with it new playoff groupings. It figures that throughout our championships we will see some new, and perhaps long overdue, match-ups. For the first time we will see a State Football Bowl Championship. We will even discuss an expansion of the concept to soccer and perhaps softball and baseball. This is exciting.

We have several challenges ahead, however. I'd like to open this year with a review of what issues we see as important and timely.

Officials Fees – This year ends our three-year agreement with our officials. Office staff, as well as our Officials' Fees committee has begun discussions on how to craft an agreement that meets the needs of both parties. We understand that gasoline prices and the higher cost of doing business affects everyone. Your Council will hear regular reports from the Committee as the year begins.

Transfer Rules – The State Federated Council Executive Committee charged Marie Ishida with the responsibility of crafting a statewide transfer rule. The reason is simple; there are different transfer rules in our sections and that has become a liability. Two separate committees met this summer to propose transfer rule language that can pass the test of scrutiny in every section. If a common rule can be adopted then we face less exposure to lawsuits and legislative action. I know our section members feel strongly about indiscriminate athletically related transfers. We need to maintain our high standards while still allowing deserving students their eligibility.

Strategic Planning – Your Executive Committee asked office staff to discuss the direction of the Section with constituent members to get a sense of where we should go in the next few years; to develop a roadmap for our future. We have begun our meetings to discuss officials and

PARTICIPATION IN HIGH SCHOOL SPORTS INCREASES AGAIN

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Contact: Bruce Howard or John Gillis

INDIANAPOLIS, IN (September 18, 2006) - For the 17th consecutive year, the number of student participants in high school athletics increased in 2005-06, according to the National Federation of State High School Associations (NFHS). Announcement of the increase comes as the NFHS, the national leadership organization for high school athletics and fine arts activity programs, launches new initiatives toward becoming a more proactive force for the future of high school activity programs nationwide.

Based on figures from the 50 state high school athletic/activity associations, plus the District of Columbia, that are members of the NFHS, participation for the 2005-06 school year rose by 141,195 students to 7,159,904, according to the 2005-06 High School Athletics Participation Survey conducted by the NFHS. Through the survey, it was also determined that 53.5 percent of students enrolled in high schools participate in athletics.

"We're thrilled with this year's survey results," said NFHS Executive Director Robert F. Kanaby. "The results show that even more students are participating in high school sports, which will have positive effects on their long-term personal success. The results support the NFHS 2005-2008 Strategic Plan, in which the organization committed to providing stronger leadership and support for high school athletics and fine arts activities."

For years, the NFHS has been the source of official playing rules, training programs for coaches and officials, and coordination and communications among individual state high school associations. In addition to these foundational roles, Kanaby said the NFHS will be working to gain awareness and support from state and local governments, media, corporate partners, and especially students and their parents.

"It is unfortunate that, in some cases, financial support for high school athletics and activities has been declining," Kanaby said. "Students want these programs. This latest survey shows a continuing trend toward more participation, and that's good for students and their communities. We can demonstrate that participation in athletics and activities helps students succeed in life."

In addition to the overall numbers, the girls participation total of 2,953,355 set an all-time record. The boys total also increased, reaching 4,206,549, the highest participation in the past 28 years. This year's boys participation figure is second only to the record 4,367,442 in 1977-78.

Competitive spirit squads gained the most female participants in 2005-06 with 14,154, followed by outdoor track and field with 11,002, indoor track and field with 6,265 and cross country with 5,504.

Eleven-player football gained the most participants among boys sports in 2005-06 with 26,281, followed by outdoor track and field with 17,282, baseball with 10,954 and wrestling with 8,525. Basketball remained the most popular sport for girls with 452,929 participants, followed by outdoor track and field (439,200), volleyball (390,034), fast pitch softball (369,094), soccer (321,555), cross country (175,954), tennis (173,753), swimming and diving (147,413), competitive spirit squads (98,570) and golf (64,195). In boys sports, 11-player football once again topped the list with 1,071,775 participants, followed by basketball (546,335), outdoor track and field (533,985), baseball (470,671), soccer (358,935), wrestling (251,534), cross country (208,303), golf (161,284), tennis (153,006) and swimming and diving (107,468).

Texas held its title as having the most sports participants with 742,341, followed by California (678,019), New York (350,349), Illinois (323,703), Michigan (321,250), Ohio (316,529), Pennsylvania (267,147), New Jersey (243,260), Florida (214,023) and Minnesota (213,476).

The participation survey has been compiled since 1971 by the NFHS through numbers it receives from its member associations. The complete 2005-06 Participation Survey is available on the NFHS Web site .

COACHES ARE THE TRUE HEROES OF HIGH SCHOOL SPORTS

By Amy Donaldson

I watched the parent yell at him. He listened, he nodded and then he calmly responded. I couldn't hear the words, but I really didn't need to. I've seen it before- a coach being yelled at by a well-meaning but unhappy parent.

I asked him about it just before we started our interview, and he just shook his head.

"It happens every year," he said. "You just can't make everybody happy. But I'm not here for the parents. I'm here for the girls."

I used to wonder why any sane person would volunteer to coach high school sports, but after years of watching them work, I understand the attraction, the addiction and the affection. No one told me why they coach, they just showed me, game after game, season after season, year after year.

I see them helping students with their homework. I see them talking to athletes about problems at home and how to deal with them. I see them offering a candy bar or leftover sandwich to a hungry student who didn't have lunch before practice. I see them get angry and I see them break down.

I watch them from the beginning of the season, full of hope and promise, until the end, when all but one are disappointed, but most are still proud. I see them teaching their girls how to block a volleyball, how to rebound a basketball, and how to steal bases.

I see them confronting teenagers who feel responsible and heartbroken after a loss. I see them accepting the grateful thanks from their players after a win. I see them posing for photographs, and I see them taking immense amounts of heat.

I see them reminding students that they need to register for ACTs and asking how they did on that troublesome math test. I've seen them explain why a teammate has earned her starting spot and what it will take to earn it back. I've seen them arrange for rides and tutoring countless times.

I've seen them buy equipment, school supplies and personal hygiene supplies with their own money. I've seen them push their athletes physically while trying to nurture their very delicate emotions.

The coaches I know and work with every day try to teach their players skills that will help them win games so they will understand the connection between hard work and success- both on the court and off. They very best ones understand they're socializing young people and every moment is a chance to change the world.

Some days, as I watch them work, I wish people could see the world of prep sports from my vantage point. I wish they could understand the miracles being worked in gyms and on fields in individual lives every day. And then I remember, thousands of student-athletes are watching these same coaches and learning these same lessons- whether they know it now or not.

"Teaching somebody something that improves her life and the lives of those around her is the only immorality I know," a coach once told me.

If that's so, long live the coach.

RULE REVIEW

Transfer
Rule
214

By Karen Hellyer

CIF-SS Assistant Commissioner

For the past few months you have probably heard discussions over Rule 214 otherwise known as the "transfer rule".

As you already know the CIF Southern Section rule states that in order for a student to transfer from high school A and into high school B and have immediate varsity eligibility that student must have completed one of two requirements: A. a bona fide change of address (defined in Rule 214-A-1) or through a "hardship" (defined in Rule 215).

If neither of these things occurs then that student would be restricted eligible, meaning he/she could only play junior varsity or below in that sport or sports he/she competed in the last 12 calendar months.

This is a rule that our membership of the Southern Section has stated as something they are very comfortable with.

However, other sections in the state find themselves with problems unique to their areas and, for that reason perhaps, have less restrictive measures in place.

Herein lies the dilemma.

Some state legislators have become concerned with the disparity around the state as it relates to individual section transfer rules. In the past six months we have seen lawmakers bring legislation to the education committee in order to pass a bill that would allow greater student movement from school to school without any eligibility restrictions. While these bills failed in committee there is every expectation that they will resurface and they underscore the possible need for a rule that would be uniform throughout the state.

Now, what form that rule would take will be up to all of you as member schools.

Some in the state have suggested a 30 or 45 school day period of ineligibility for all transfers. Some have supported a return to "Open Enrollment" or a one-time free transfer at all grade levels, or after the 9th grade only.

Both the executive committee and the section staff believe a compromise will need to be made on this issue with all sections coming to a united agreement of what transfer rule works best for all. We would appreciate your thoughts on this matter as this subject truly affects you, the member schools.

In the meantime, should you have questions about this or any rule, please give us a call here at the office.

OFFICIALS' WHISTLE

Officiating
Consistency and Rules Interpretations

By Bill Agopian
CIF-SS Officials Liaison

Recent newspaper accounts have detailed failings of college football replay officials. Major league baseball debates the merits of a computerized strike zone. The NBA makes a rules change regarding debating calls with officials. The NFL again tries to explain the quarterback "tuck rule"!

All of the above demonstrate the ever-present accountability of officials. With more high school contests on television, "right" and "wrong" calls become larger.

Officials often interpret rules under the guideline of "philosophies of play", such as advantage, disadvantage. Coaches might interpret "letter of the law" – holding is holding regardless of the score or where it occurs on the field. One challenge in reaching the goal of consistency in officiating is the vast geography of the Southern Section.

How do we gain consistency in rules interpretation? One example is what recently occurred with the Football Advisory Committee. The Committee invited a member of the instructional staff of the California Football Officials Association to discuss rules and rules interpretations. From that meeting a consensus was reached on a variety of items, and those interpretations were communicated through the CFOA website.

The human factor will always mean varying interpretations to the "a rule is a rule" guideline. This should not stop coaches, players and officials from reaching for the goal of the #1 request of coaches and participants: a consistently administered game!

"Recruit – Train – Refrain"

The CIF-SS asks you to do your part to bring more individuals into sports officiating! Your comments and column ideas are welcome: bagopian1@earthlink.net.

COMMISSIONER OF ATHLETICS

OAKS CHRISTIAN AND CORONA DEL MAR CLAIM TITLES IN FIFTEENTH ANNUAL COMMISSIONER'S CUP

The CIF Southern Section is pleased to announce the top ten girls and boys athletic programs in the Fifteenth annual Commissioner's Cup (formerly known as the Cavalcade of Champions).

On the girl's side, Corona del Mar took top honors for the third year in a row by scoring 22 points with titles claimed in 4 championships. The Sea Queens literally ran and swam away from the competition, winning titles in cross country, track and field, water polo and swimming/diving. Marlborough finished second in the competition with 13 points by claiming two titles in basketball as well as track and field while earning points in two other sports. Rounding out the top three was Sage Hill, who earned 12 points and also captured two titles in basketball and volleyball.

On the boy's side, Oaks Christian claimed back-to-back Commissioner Cup titles with four titles. The Lions scored 20 points after winning the same three titles they captured last year (Football, volleyball and swimming/diving) as well as capturing a fourth title in track and field. Palos Verdes finished second in the competition with 14.5 points. The Sea Kings captured titles in baseball as well as swimming/diving. Palos Verdes also received points for a split title in soccer and a semi-final appearance in water polo. Temecula Valley round out the top three programs with 13 points accumulated. The Golden Bears won titles in soccer and wrestling. They also received points for their result in track and field.

The CIF-SS developed this recognition program based upon the comprehensive excellence in interscholastic competition. The purpose of this program is to enhance the spirit of competition, sportsmanship, and goodwill among the student athletes and member schools.

The winners are determined by a point system that provides: five points for a divisional championship; three points for a divisional runner-up finish; two points for advancing to the semifinal round or a third place finish in a team-place finish sport (i.e. cross country, golf, swimming and diving, track and field); and one point for a fourth place finish in a team-place finish sport. In cases where a tie occurs, total team-sport playoff appearances will be used to determine the top ten schools.

"The CIF-SS would like to congratulate these outstanding programs for their championship performances," said Dr. Jim Staunton, Commissioner of Athletics. "They all have a lot to be proud of through their accomplishments and those of their entire athletic programs."

7. REPORT SESSION

A. Presidents' Report – John Dahlem presented Gene Campbell with his outgoing Executive Committee Member gift. He stated Gene has tremendous respect in Orange County; the principals and representatives have all appreciated his leadership. John thanked Gene and wished him luck in his retirement.

Gene Campbell – It has been a wonderful experience for him and the colleagues in his school district. The emphasis this organization places on the family unit is very good; CIF cares about kids, progress and education. Every time we met, he always left feeling good. His experience cannot be duplicated. He thanked everyone for their contributions to his growth and the hard work that everyone does that is always behind the scenes.

B. Treasurer's Report – Susie Arce presented the treasurer's report. The auditing committee has recommended the firm of Carmody and Meade as the CIF Southern Section auditors.

C. Commissioner's Report – Jim reminded the committee of the June Champions for Character Golf Tournament to be held on June 19, 2006. He also informed the committee that he is preparing a newsletter to mail to legislators to keep them informed of who CIF is; he plans to do this on a regular basis. He also mentioned that the assistant commissioners have all met their goals for this year.

D. Executive Committee Member Reports – Foothill Area Representative – Jim Monaco thanked John Dahlem for his leadership.

State CIF Executive Committee Member – Gary Smidderks endorsed and thanked John for his leadership. He stated the culture of the state is changing; big is more efficient but not necessarily better.

Assistant Commissioner – Paul Castillo informed the committee of the Master's track and field competition and invited all to attend.

Citrus Belt Area Representative – Rhonda Fouch thanked John for his leadership. Her area had two great meetings in the last two weeks and appreciated and thanked the office staff for attending. Two students received $500 John Wooden Scholarships. Next year's Citrus Belt League President is Mike Rowan, Athletic Director, Chaparral High School.

Boys' Athletic Director Representative – Stan Ford stated the Citrus Belt meetings are made up primarily of athletic directors. They had sixteen of their varsity teams recognized and three teams received financial awards.

Assistant Commissioner – Karen Hellyer informed the committee there are more championship events occurring this next week; boys volleyball, badminton and softball.

Desert Area Representative – John Mendoza stated the committee needs to follow up on strategic planning. Our whole purpose is to provide programs for our kids. We must address the political realities today. Even our own superintendents and board members are unaware of what we do. We must work on this and communicate with people as to why we and how we function.

Parochial Area Representative – Sr. Cheryl Milner agreed that the image of CIF needs to be worked on because these issues will not go away. The legislators will hear from parents on their own issues and will show that we are inconsistent. We need to be ahead of them. She was also pleased with the efforts John Dahlem has given; it was a good framework and she looks forward to his insights.

Activities Director Representative – Terry Speir stated the Ethics in Sports Committee met earlier this month to choose the Champion for Character recipients. There were very few nominations; some areas did not submit any applications, some areas have no competition. She asked the committee members for any comments or help. It was also suggested to include the applications for Champions for Character in the January Council packet.

Assistant Commissioner – Rob Wigod informed the committee of the upcoming baseball championship dates and locations. He also thanked John Dahlem for his service and leadership.

CIFSS/DODGERS CELEBRATE 24TH ANNUAL KENNETH FAGANS-TOYOTA "SHAKE FOR SPORTSMANSHIP" AWARDS PROGRAM

The CIF Southern Section and Los Angeles City Section once again teamed up with the Los Angeles Dodgers and Toyota to present the 24th annual Kenneth Fagans-Toyota "Shake for Sportsmanship" Awards. The awards ceremonies took place prior to the Dodgers-Atlanta Braves game on April 5.

Award recipients are determined by the members of their respective leagues. Although participating leagues may establish their own criteria, the CIF-SS offers the following guidelines for the selection process: participation, enthusiasm, behavior at home and away games, treatment of opponents and treatment of the contest officials. Judging is based not only on the student-athletes conduct, but also on the conduct of the school band members, drill team, pep squads, cheerleaders and student-rooting sections. In all, the program will encompass nearly 700 CIF-member high schools in southern and central California.

"We are very proud of this most important program," said Dr. Jim Staunton, CIF-SS Commissioner of Athletics. "Schools receiving this award are to be commended for the direction provided by their administrative and coaching staffs, and especially for the positive action of their student body memberships. Shake for Sportsmanship goes hand-in-hand with our Victory with Honor and Character Counts programs as we are extremely proud to be a part of it."

The award is named for the former CIF-SS Commissioner, the late Kenny Fagans, who served as Commissioner from 1954 to 1975. Each of the honored schools received a plaque for permanent display on campus.

"Speaking on behalf of both the Southern and Los Angeles City Sections, we wish to thank the Dodgers and Toyota for their continued efforts in promoting the spirit of

CIF-SS, DODGERS AND ADOHR FARMS' 2006 "SHAKE FOR SPORTSMANSHIP" AWARD WINNERS

THEY EXCEL AT MIXING SPORTS & ACADEMICS

By Eric Sondheimer

It's always good to remember how high school sports can bring out the best in teenagers, both on and off the field. Here are three girls who understand that equal commitments to academics and athletics are helping them achieve a complete high school experience. Growing up, Emilie Still of Duarte wasn't interested in playing sports. "I hated P.E. and didn't like to run," she said. "But my dad was a runner and he got me into it. My friends and I decided to join the track team when I was a freshman." She soon discovered it fit her perfectly. "After a good, hard run, you feel good," she said. "I'm not running to just win first place in high school. I love it. It's a good stress reliever." Still, a senior, has become the No. 1 cross-country runner for Duarte and won the Montview League's 3,200-meter track title last season. She also has an impressive 4.2 grade-point average and has never received a grade other than A on a high school report card. "She's a great person," Athletic Director Danny Cardona said. "She's a go-getter. She does everything in extra. She's a coach's dream." Still is a lawyer-in-the-making. She participates in the nationwide mock trial program and received an award as outstanding defense attorney in Los Angeles County three years ago. "I try to argue for the truth because that's what should rule, and you do that by reasoning and proving the evidence," she said. "And it's also good to appeal to emotion if you can get the judge or jury to feel your side of the case."

She has argued cases from the defense and prosecution sides and feels motivated to prepare herself to help others. "I don't want to be one of those Wall Street people," she said. "My heart has always gone out to people who haven't had as much as me." Whether running track or cross-country, or arguing cases, Still has figured out what's important: "Whether you win or not, it's the experience," she said.

Amber Oland of Santa Ana Foothill isn't simply a standout water polo player. She's considered the No. 1 goalie for her class in the nation. Add to that, she has a 4.0 GPA. Asked how she pulled off these two tough feats, Oland said, "A lot of sleepless nights." She practices water polo every afternoon, then does her homework, and if that means studying late into the night, so be it. "If it gets me to college, it's worth it," she said. It is important to Oland to be good enough athletically to earn a college scholarship and to have the grades to pick any school she wants. "Water polo is so much fun, and I really wanted to go to a good academic school," she said. "Keeping up your academics is part of that dream." Her dream is about to come true. Oland is being recruited by Stanford, UCLA and USC. Last summer, she traveled to Greece, Italy and Canada as a member of the U.S. junior national team. As much work as she has put into the pool and into her studies, she has no regrets. "I don't think I've had to sacrifice," she said. "I love doing it." Her two older brothers, who set a high standard, provided motivation for academic excellence. Her parents had a standing offer: Whichever sibling had the highest GPA got to choose where to go for dinner, so the family competition was intense. Oland would prefer less homework and more water polo, but she's not complaining. "I love it," she said of her high school experience.

If Becky Hernandez has any free time, it's probably devoted to sleep because she rarely slows down, day or night. She is a three-sport athlete at Covina who has started for three years on the volleyball team, three years on the soccer team and three years on the softball team. She participates in clubs and student government and volunteered to join a group that traveled to an orphanage in Mexico to hand out toys and plant trees. She has a 3.0 GPA, and her volleyball coach, Pam Marquez, doesn't know what she would do without her. "Becky is a leader on the court and off," Marquez said. "She helps my other girls with their homework. She's driven in every aspect. She wants to be a setter, she wants to be a passer. She's very concerned about being flawless, and other girls want to be at her level." Hernandez doesn't complain about her seemingly nonstop schedule of school, sports and commitments. "It's tough," she said. "I'm not going to lie. You go to bed late and wake up early. You just give it all you got. I love it. Without sports, I don't know what I'd do." It's all about commitment, desire and priorities. That's why Hernandez, Still and Oland have been able to succeed academically and athletically, and there's no reason others can't do the same.

officiating, sportsmanship, eligibility rules, finances and public relations. In January the Executive Committee will hear recommendations for action that will affect our direction and ability to meet these new goals.

Communication – Last year we discovered an entire group of people who are vital to our functioning, yet who are physically removed from our boundaries – our legislators. After the two attempts to alter our transfer rule we believe that better communication with our legislators is essential. We are empowered to administer athletics because of legislative action. In order to continue to function as a professional organization, we need to keep up strong communication. That is our plan for the future. Let us know how we are doing if you hear or read about any issues in this regard.

Competition and Sportsmanship – I hope to see a continued emphasis on positive student behavior at all of our contests. We will emphasize our “Champions for Character” program and hope to see even better participation by our schools. We still offer our One Day Coaches’ Training. I hope our schools take advantage of this great program.

We have always had great input from Council as well as great leadership from the Executive Committee. With your help we will meet all of our challenges and have a productive new year.

Best of luck on your school openings, may you have a smooth start and plenty of staffing.
