PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

A Winter Season Update

By Paul Breit, President
CIF-SS Executive Committee

It is hard for me to believe that my two years as President will be completed this spring. The past two years has seen many challenges, especially at the state level. However, with your support the CIF-SS has weathered the obstacles and we are in a strategically better position that we were two years ago. It appears that the CIF State Marketing Program, a major concern for us will be finalized this spring and both the state and the Southern Section will benefit.

The Winter Sports CIF-SS Championships were very successful. I would like to congratulate the Champions of Boys and Girls Basketball, Boys and Girls Soccer, and Wrestling. Please thank the students, parents and coaches for an outstanding job. Special thanks and congratulations to Karen Hellyer, Paul Castillo and Rob Wigod and the office staff for their time and effort in making the playoffs a quality experience.

As I stated at the March Council Meeting, many schools/school districts are facing a fiscal crisis. I would strongly suggest that you look for strategies that can maximize your available dollars. At your league meetings, you might share any budget or pending budget reductions that your school districts are considering. Determine if there is a common strand among your league schools that might reduce expenses with minimal effects on the programs. For the majority of the high schools, it is safe to say that it is not whether budgets cuts are coming, but how much. Having options available if, you are directed to reduce budgets can lessen the impact on our programs and athletes. The CIF-SS Executive Committee and the office staff have also worked very hard to reduce our budget and look at long range planning for our organization. It is our commitment to you to continue to provide the services that you expect and keep the organization fiscally solvent.

We are finding an increasing number of new high school principals in the Southern

What's Wrong With Transfers?

By James Staunton, Ed.D.
Commissioner of Athletics

Just recently a reporter looked at me and asked what was wrong with students transferring from school to school. "After all, don't parents make choices based on academics?" He asked. I thought he was being a little naïve asking that question given the years that I spent processing Open Enrollment requests. There has never been a question in my mind that the primary motivation for transfers is athletics. But for him this was a valid question. I really had to think about that comment for a moment because, if we exist as an organization to support our schools, then academic transfers might logically follow as a "free pass" for kids. What I know from my experience is that the number of academic transfers pale in comparison to those that are made for athletic reasons. I believe our principals made that same statement last year when they voted to end the Open Enrollment option. Still, what if we are stopping even a few students from playing varsity who transfer because of academics? Is it wrong?

I think not. Our present policy is right for what it says about our beliefs. Once begun, the four years of high school pass all too quickly: transferring is a thing and should only be made after careful consideration. Additionally, CIF Southern Section believes in the values of participation at the school where eligibility has begun; whether private or public. Identity with a school community is vital for high school age students. Changes in enrollment often stress students and cause later problems. It saddens me to think of those students who graduate with a class full of strangers. Is athletic advancement worth that?

CIF rules are not so restrictive that a student can't enroll in the school that is right for him/her. In the first place, if families are concerned about the academic performance of a school, they can spend time prior to the ninth grade investigating the best school choice for their child. Magnet programs, accelerated programs, and specialty schools publicize their programs to attract enrollment. For those situations in which a

RULE REVIEW

Changes for 2004-05

By Karen Hellyer
CIF-SS Assistant Commissioner

There are a few changes and things to be aware of as we slowly fade out of 2003-04 and get prepared for 2004-05.

Many of these changes are the result of council vote, Executive Committee meetings and office policy. All need to be highlighted so that you can rest this summer in the knowledge that you are ready for another new sports year.

1. It's very important to use written contracts for scheduling contests. Review By-Law 150 in the Bluebook.
2. When hiring coaches make sure you review the Association Rule (By-Law 312) with all potential applicants prior to hiring.
3. Check the CIF-SS website frequently for announcements, in-service dates, rule updates and other information.
4. Check current National Federation rule books for equipment or uniform rule changes for 2004-05.
5. Review summertime rules with your coaching staff. Specific language is located under each particular sports section in the Bluebook.
6. The Summer Dead Period will be August 2-22, 2004 (except for those schools that request, in writing, an alternate period).
7. Make sure all sport schedules are submitted to your Area Liaison and sport unit assignors by the specific due dates. This is extremely important in helping your school to be adequately covered by officials for each sport.
8. Fall Packets will be available for pick-up at the CF-SS Office on August 16, 2004.
9. Make sure to read your new Bluebook (when you pick it up) with all new rule language. Pay specific attention to new rules and wording regarding mileage and athletic contracts.

These are just some of the items to keep in mind as we head into the summer. Should you need a more detailed explanation of these or any other areas of interest it is important that you contact the office for clarification from one of the administrators.

Have a great summer and we look forward to serving you in the coming year.

STATE BASKETBALL

V boys final. Darren Morrison led Price with 20 points, while Marcus palmer tallied a double-double with 10 points and 12 rebounds for the Knights. Price got within six points with 3:57 left to play, but could not make a final run to catch-up. The Knights are now 4-1 in Boy's State Basketball Championships appearances.

In Girl's Division II action, Troy ended up on the bottom of a 48-41 score to Carondelet of Concord (NCS) in their fight for a second-consecutive title. Meghan McGuire led the way for the Warriors with 16 points and 11 rebounds. Neither team got any help from their bench as both teams 10 starters accounted for all of the points scored in the contest.

In the Division III girl's final, St. Mary's of Stockton (SJS) defeated Bishop Amat, 54-45 to earn their third consecutive girls basketball state title. Erin Myrick paced the Lady Lancers with 21 points and pulled down 14 rebounds as Bishop Amat out rebounded St. Mary's 40-27 in a losing effort. Bishop Amat actually led the highly ranked Rams 17-9 at one point, but found the going tough the rest of the way out in their first state title game appearance.

Unfortunately for the South, North teams dominated the competition for the first time since 1988 as they went 7-3 in the tournament. On the girls side the North swept the South for only the second time in the history of the championships.

C.S.A.D.A. Evaluation

I just attended the California State Athletic Directors Association (CSADA) annual conference in Palm Springs. Every year we are told to return the Conference Evaluation form. "These are carefully scrutinized," we are told, so the conference can be structured to meet the needs of the attendees.

I didn't turn mine in. I confess. If I may, I'd like to share some thoughts on the experience as a way of making it up to the leadership who worked so hard to make this, and every other conference, a success.

I said at the Commissioner's Coffee (a regular feature of the conference) that attendance at this conference is vital for CIF staff. There are several reasons:

1. It's refreshing—The conference comes around every year during April. This is about the time when Athletic Directors, CIF staff, Athletic Administrators, Principals and secretaries are near the breaking point. Budget problems, eligibility problems, angry parents, long hours and little appreciation conspire to make this a difficult time of year. Most school athletic personnel are running close to empty and just hoping to make it to June. The conference is a few days respite from problems and gives everyone a chance to unwind and share a perspective on how to handle the stress of the job.

2. It's Informative—Generally speaking there is something for everyone. I was very impressed by a presentation from Roger Blake who gave a comprehensive update on pending legislative issues. You may see what happens in Sacramento as distant from our day-to-day work, but it is not. In fact what happens there can have a profound impact on sports governance. Jim Drake's presentation on how to orient new coaches was packed. Jim Perry discussed the problem of club sports. Tom Schroeder gave everyone a perspective on how the Commissioners around the state view topical issues. There were several presentations well worth attending on topics ranging from retirement planning to how to market your individual athletic program.

3. You are in Touch—Like two fingers on a carotid artery you get a chance to tell not only the health of athletic programs, but also the strength of athletics around the state. This is how we test the pulse and gauge our health. Athletic Directors are central to CIF's role in athletic administration. They are the people who deal with the application of our rules, their interpretation and application. Who better to talk to than these people who are on the front line every day? And believe me, they talk. We get a sense of what's happening by being there to field questions and get ideas on how best to administer athletics. We were even honored to hear from the NIAAA athletic director of the year who shared what is happening in his home state, Minnesota.

4. It's a Celebration—This year, Brice Sunderland of Yucaipa, Bruce Belcher of Edison, Huntington Beach and Ralph Trigsted of Sunny Hills were honored as Southern Section athletic directors of the year. Tony Diaz, of Oxnard School District was honored as the State Athletic Director of the year. John Beach of Los Osos was honored as was Wayne Hackney and Jim Drake. These deserving individuals were feted for their dedication, skill, leadership and expertise. It was gratifying to see their principals and superintendents there to attend the banquet in their honor.

5. It's non-denominational—ADs from both the public and private sector attend. What better forum for them than this conference? If we are to survive then representatives from both sides need to meet together and talk over problems of

SAN LUIS OBISPO CLAIMS SEVEN TEAM TITLES IN THE 2003-2004 CIF-SS ACADEMIC AWARDS PROGRAM

San Luis Obispo was awarded seven team championships in the 2003-2004 CIF Southern Section Academic Awards Program to lead all schools. San Luis Obispo claimed championships in baseball, boy's basketball, softball, boys swimming, girls swimming, boy's volleyball and girl's water polo. The next closest schools were Pasadena Poly and Flintridge Prep with five titles each. Pasadena Poly claimed titles in badminton, girl's soccer, boy's tennis, girl's tennis and boy's water polo. Flintridge Prep took crowns in softball, boys swimming, boy's track and field, boy's volleyball and girl's water polo. Six other schools finished the year with two or more titles to their school's name.

The team awards, granted in 23 sports, are based on cumulative grade point average. To be considered, teams must have accomplished a minimum 3.0 grade point average (4.0 scale) in college-prep courses in the first semester of the 2003-2004 school year. The highest GPA in each sport determines the champion.

Each CIF-SS member school is also entitled to name boy and girl individual "Student-Athlete of the Year Award" winners. Individual award recipients must be seniors who have maintained a minimum 3.5 GPA (4.0 scale) in college-prep courses school drops an academic program the Hardship waiver is available to the student who must transfer in order to complete a course of study. Section rules do not take issue with ninth grade choices.

Once made it is important for students to stay with their choices and complete their commitment. After a student has established him or herself at a school a transfer, regardless of the reason, is bound to take a toll. Students only get four short years of high school. That's not much time to make friends, establish relationships and enjoy the social activities available. Transferring invariably costs friendships, and causes anxiety at the new school. For those who do transfer we can only hope that the move is an appropriate one that will meet the needs of the family.

Over the years the Section has developed rules that consider the needs of students but also provide a balance that considers competitive equity. Along with that we have developed safety valves to help students who suffer uncontrollable circumstances. All in all policies that work.

Section who do come to the job with an athletic background, as have many principals in years past. I want to encourage those high school principals who do not have that background to attend the "new administrator" meetings, contact the CIF-SS office, but most important contact your Area Representative. He/she has an extensive background in athletics, and is only a phone call away. The area representatives were elected by your area principals for their experience, knowledge and integrity and are an excellent resource for you.

I want to thank all of you for your support and I hope that you will give John Dahlem, our incoming President, the same support that I enjoyed. A special thanks to the Executive Committee for their support and assistance in getting us through some very challenging situations.

Athletics is not easy. The complexities of our society, the legal impact, and the fiscal concerns, staffing, etc. continue to be major concerns to the schools. However, in spite of these complexities high school athletics continues to be the best game in town.

mutual concern.

I think the annual conference is valuable, not just for Athletic Directors, but for all athletic administrators and principals. If our high schools are to promote teamwork, then the teams of people who administer athletics should spend some time together discussing important issues and solving problems. How nice would it be to see principals and district level personnel there to share in the experience?
