The CIF Southern Section recently inked Maxell and Conlin Bros. Sporting Goods to new sponsorship agreements while the Coca Cola Bottling Company of Los Angeles has agreed to continue underwriting the awards for all team and individual finalists. Maxell, the highly-regarded audio and video tape manufacturer has joined the CIF-SS as its official audio and video tape for a one-year period. Conlin Bros. Sporting Goods, the prominent team dealer, signed a five-year contract as the CIF-SS' official team dealer.

COMMISSIONER'S CORNER

PARTICIPATION OF PRINCIPALS IS ESSENTIAL

The CIF Southern Section is a representative body which requires participation from each of our sixty-two leagues. The CIF-SS Council, composed of principals and boys and girls athletic directors representing the leagues, have the responsibility of hearing all issues, discussing and voting on them in order to bring closure to agenda items.

This editorial is not designed to offend active supporters of the CIF Southern Section who are not principals. The CIF-SS needs assistant principal's and athletic director's participation. The concern of our Section is that principals participate and contribute in CIF-SS and league meetings.

In some leagues, principals have delegated this responsibility to assistant principals or athletic directors. The CIF Southern Section is a principal's organization; local Boards of Education, by benefit of Senate Bill 1533, designate a person within the district to represent said Board to the CIF Southern Section. The opportunity for input by supportive administrators and athletic directors is essential. However, if we delegate this responsibility, our organization will then become something less than what it was originally intended to be.

If we are to continue to provide needed services and direction to our members schools, it will be because we effectively communicate with the respective leagues. This issue is critical for effective management in the CIF Southern Section.

I understand the duties and schedules a school principal performs on a daily basis, and in many cases it becomes necessary to delegate athletic responsibilities. I strongly recommend each principal and athletic director conference on a weekly basis. Sharing information relating to a school's athletic program will provide important internal communication. The next step is to share in the decision making of the section. With the principal's input and participation, our Section will become stronger and more efficient.

Again, let me repeat, this commentary is not to discourage assistant principal and athletic director participation. I encourage each individual to be present and represent respective schools and leagues in CIF Southern Section matters.

If you agree, chances are there will be no response. However, if you disagree, I solicit your personal call or written communication at your convenience.

The October meeting of the California Interscholastic Federation Southern Section Executive Committee was called to order by Chairman Pat Mauch at 9:40 a.m. at the CIF Southern Section Office on Thursday, October 22, 1986. CORPORATE SUPPORT BOUYS CIF-SS PROGRAMS

The Coca Cola Bottling Company of Los Angeles, although recently purchased by Coca Cola Enterprises (the newly-created bottling holding company of Coca Cola USA) has committed to another year as the CIF-SS' award's underwriter. As with all CIF-SS' sponsors, Maxell, Conlin Bros., and Coca Cola have all been granted exclusivity within its respective industry.

Maxell: How yesterday's legends can help the legends of tomorrow is the theme behind Maxell's sponsorship of the CIF Southern Section. Maxell has donated 10,000 limited edition posters of Marilyn Monroe, James Dean, Aretha Franklin and Buddy Holly which can be purchased for $2.99 through coupons found in all CIF-SS' championship game programs or at any Music Plus, The Wherehouse, or The Federated Group locations. These 4-color posters are not available through any other means than through the CIF-SS.

"Maxell has always been community-minded, so involvement with the CIF-SS was a natural step for us to take," said Trink Shurian, Director of Marketing Services-Jack Carter and Associates (Maxell's Marketing Company).

"Our goals are two-fold. Naturally we want the Maxell name to have high exposure in the schools and we wanted to provide the CIF-SS with the opportunity to raise funds through our poster program," added Shurian.

Conlin Bros. Sporting Goods: When CIF-SS member schools think of sporting goods team dealers, it's safe to say that the majority of them think of Conlin Bros. Sporting Goods. One of the biggest Southern California team dealers, Conlin Bros. has evolved from a vendor at CIF-SS symposiums, to an advertiser in CIF-SS championship game programs, to the official team dealer of the section.

"We use the CIF Southern Section as a reference of information and to carry our message to member schools," said Ken Conlin, President-Conlin Bros. Sporting Goods.

Coca Cola Bottling Company of Los Angeles: Things have gone better with Coca Cola for the CIF-SS in previous years as the world's No. 1 softdrink has underwritten the costs of CIF-SS awards. In its second year of sponsoring under the Coca Cola name since taking over the Dr Pepper brand, the Coca Cola Bottling Company of Los Angeles has continued to support the Southern Section.

"Can you imagine how delighted we are to be designated as the official softdrink of the CIF-SS?" said Dennis Anderson, Marketing Development Manager-Coca Cola Bottling Company of Los Angeles. "It's quite an honor for us to team up with an organization dedicated to youth by providing a wholesome experience," concluded Anderson.

Maxell, Conlin Bros. and Coca Cola are joined on the CIF Southern Section's support foundation by: Adohr Farms Dairies, Army National Guard, California Angels, Chief Auto Parts, David & Sons Sunflower Seeds, Los Angeles Dodgers, The Finals Swimwear Company, Ford Motor Company, Gatorade, Herff Jones, Jack in the Box, Round Table Pizza, Saucony/Spot-bilt, Seven-Eleven Food Stores, Sunny Delight Florida Citrus Punch and the Wilson Sporting Goods Company.

ELIGIBILITY ALERT

BLUE BOOK SPORT RULE: "ASSOCIATION WITH HIGH SCHOOL PLAYERS"

No representative of a member school shall ORGANIZE, SPONSOR OR COACH a CIF sanctioned sport outside the season of sport, during the school year, in which students with remaining eligibility at that school are participating.

Question: Can a teacher or a high school staff member, who is not a member of the high school coaching staff, coach an outside team during the school year in which students with remaining eligibility at that school are participating?

Answer: Since the rule states "no representative of a member school can ORGANIZE, SPONSOR OR COACH", the teacher or any other school personnel would NOT BE ELIGIBLE to organize, sponsor or coach an outside team during the school year in which students with remaining eligibility at that school are participating.

Question: Can a "Walk On Coach" coach an outside team or individuals before the season starts or after the season ends during the school year in which students with remaining eligibility at that school are participating and return to coach the high school team the following year?

Answer: No. The "Walk On Coach" is considered a coach at the high school for the entire school year. Therefore, organizing, sponsoring or coaching an outside team during the school year would be a violation of the association rule making the walk on coach ineligible to coach the high school team during the spring practice period or coaching at the school the following year.

Example: A high school coach could not assist in the sponsorship, organization or take athletes from his/her school to post-season or pre-season competition such as the Kinney Cross Country Championship, USVBA Volleyball Club Activities, the Sunkist Invitational, nor the L.A. Times Indoor Track Meet. These are out of season activities in which athletes may compete but schools cannot provide entry fees, transportation, nor uniforms, etc.

COMPETITION WITH OUTSIDE TEAMS

No school belonging to the California Interscholastic Federation shall compete with any team outside the jurisdiction of the Federation without consent of the CIF Section involved. A school disregarding this rule may be barred from participation in that sport during the following season.

Question: May an outside club team in girls' soccer play a CIF member school?

Answer: No. Teams representing member schools may not schedule scrimmages, games, practice sessions or workouts with teams representing outside organizations.

CONTINUING SCHOLASTIC ELIGIBILITY

The regular grading period may vary among member schools, but in every case the period of potential eligibility is exactly equal to the period of potential ineligibility.

Question: After the computer grades are issued to the school, could they be held by the school administration for three to five days before students are declared eligible or ineligible?

Answer: No. If grades are returned from the computer center, it is at that point eligibility is determined.

A PRIMER FOR HIGH SCHOOL SPORTS INFORMATION

IMPROVED PRESS RELATIONS CAN BOLSTER YOUR PROGRAM

By Scott Cathcart, CIF-SS Media and Public Relations Director

With the increasing exposure of professional and collegiate sports on local, state and national levels, high school athletic programs must reach out for recognition in order to build and maintain its fair share of the recreation and entertainment market.

The benefits of improved media relations are numerous. Increased exposure will give the school name greater notoriety and public recognition.

Believe it or not, your school is in direct competition with the "big leagues" for newspaper space and radio-television time. Accordingly, the time has come for high schools to assume a "big league" posture in the areas of sports information and media relations. There is a wealth of free publicity that may be obtained for your athletic program. With increased effort, the power of this publicity may be harnessed to work for your program, regardless of location.

The benefits of improved media relations are numerous. Increased exposure will give the school name greater notoriety and public recognition. With a more recognizable school name, you'll find it easier to generate interest in your events and ultimately increase attendance.

Improved media exposure will be beneficial to your athletes as well, leading to greater opportunities for individual recognition in areas such as awards and interest from college recruiters.

Schools must recognize the need for good media relations in advance. It is too late to develop a good rapport with the local media when you need a favorable press reaction. Many editors are of the opinion that "what you want in the paper is publicity, and what you don't want in the paper is news". Principals must take the initiative to establish and provide for a continuing program of effective public and media relations.

Each school should have a faculty member assigned to act as its representative for public relations. This could be a Vice Principal, Activities Director, Journalism Advisor or Athletic Director, but should be someone who is qualified in this area and who will be available when needed to distribute information or answer inquiries from the media.

The single most important rule in media relations is to be consistent. Win or lose, contact must be made on a regular basis. This practice will do more than anything else to help establish a working rapport with the media, which will pay off for your school in the long run.

The first step in improving media relations and exposure is simple, but often overlooked: REPORT ALL SCORES. Make sure to call in the score of all of your school's varsity athletic events—both at home and on the road—to the local newspaper, major newspaper, local radio stations and television stations. Find out who the contacts are for these agencies—the prep sports "beat writer" for instance—and keep the phone numbers posted in the athletic office. When reporting scores, be prepared to give updated league and overall records for both teams as well.

Another key is to maintain accurate rosters for each of your athletic teams and have copies available. Rosters should include the number, name, position, height, weight and school year of all team members. Maintain statistics for varsity teams and update each week or even after each contest. Provide statistics to your local correspondents on a regular basis.

If your record keeping skills are good, these figures will soon be useful materials in producing school records. Be sure to report to the local media when an outstanding statistical performance has been achieved, or when an athlete is closing in on a school record.

Always provide accommodations—such as work space, use of a telephone and complementary programs—for the press at major sporting events. Keep in mind that the pressbox or scorers table should be reserved for working members of the media and authorized personnel only.

Other tips to improve your school's coverage and exposure include: producing regular press releases for the local media and those outlets in your scheduled opponent's areas; making schedule announcements well in advance; maintaining questionnaire files on athletes for reference purposes; holding media days for major sport teams (in which the local media is invited for photo and interview sessions with athletes in game uniforms and coaches prior to the season of sport); initiating ideas on feature articles about your athletes and coaches.

CIF-SS SIGNS TELEVISION PACT WITH PRIME TICKET NETWORK

In an effort to establish increased exposure for the teams and athletes of its member schools, the California Interscholastic Federation-Southern Section has entered into an agreement with the Prime Ticket Network for cablecasts of major championship events.

Prime Ticket opened its CIF Southern Section coverage during the Football playoffs in December, with delayed telecasts of the Big-Five title game at Anaheim Stadium and the Southern Conference final at Orange Coast College. The announcers for the games included Rich Marotta and Jeff Severson at the Big-Five final, and Bill MacDonald and Jack Snow at the Southern Conference championship game.

"We at the CIF-SS feel this is the beginning of a new frontier in regards to media coverage," noted Stan Thomas, CIF-SS Commissioner of Athletics. "We recognize Prime Ticket as a leader in regional sports programming and are impressed by its growing subscriber base, which is now at 1.5 million viewers."

The agreement between the CIF-SS and Prime Ticket calls for a three-to-five year option and includes coverage of the section's football, basketball and girls volleyball championships. Future events may also include the CIF-SS track and field championships and extended basketball coverage.

"We look forward to a long and lasting relationship, and anticipate expanded coverage with Prime Ticket in the years to come," added Thomas. "Prime Ticket's professional coverage will give our outstanding teams and student-athletes the kind of exposure they truly deserve."

Future event coverage will include the boys 5-A Division basketball championship (March 7); an option for the boys and girls 4-A Division basketball finals (March 6-7); the 1987 girls 5-A Division volleyball finals, and an option on the 1987 CIF-SS Masters' Track and Field Championships.

"The most fertile area for high school athletics in the nation is right here in Southern California," pointed out Prime Ticket President Tony Acone. "And thanks to our agreement with the CIF-SS, we will be able to spotlight and give wide-spread exposure to the premier student-athletes in the area."

Components of the agreement provide for Prime Ticket to pay each school a $250 fee for each team sport televised. All non-option games are guaranteed to be televised, irregardless of advertising sales considerations. Prime Ticket will also produce a 30-second public service announcement for the CIF-SS as part of the agreement.

The CIF-SS agrees that Prime Ticket will be the exclusive television network for the games noted above and will not be in competition with delayed or live telecasts being done by other television entities.
