EL RANCHO "DONS" CAPTURE CIF "AAAA" GRID CROWN; POPE STARS IN 35-14 WIN OVER ANAHEIM "COLONISTS"

CHAMPIONSHIP PRESENTATION—El Rancho High co-captains Jim Collings (68) and Rick Pope (10) display their newly acquired CIF Championship trophy after the Dons downed Anaheim, 35-14, for the CIF crown on December 16. Dave Patterson (81), Ed Perez (84) and Russ Coy (77) are other Dons identifiable. Head coach Ernie Johnson

"Rifle Rick" Fires Three TD Passes, Runs for Another as Game Draws 25,049 to Los Angeles Coliseum

El Rancho High football coaches and players were still reaping honors in January, a month after they proved themselves individually and collectively, the best in the CIF by bombing Anaheim, 35-14, on December 16, in the title game at the Los Angeles Coliseum.

A crowd of 25,049 watched as "Rifle Rick" Pope passed for three touchdowns and ran 52 yards for another score to lead the Dons to their first-ever "AAAA" championship and a perfect 13-0-0 season.

El Rancho Coach Ernie Johnson was named California's Prep Coach of the Year by his fellow coaches and the Dons placed four men on the All-CIF first team as selected by Southland writers.

Pope, guard Brad Fielder, line-backer Jim Collings and center Jeff Jorgenson were all first team choices while end Dave Patterson was named to a second team berth.

All told El Rancho picked up 17 of the 23 berths on the All-Pacific League team as selected by the league's coaches. That's domination!

Anaheim's "Batman spread" gave the Dons a few anxious moments in

Specialization Can Wait

(Guest editorial from Wisconsin Interscholastic Athletic Assn. Bulletin)

They say that specialization is a landmark of the age in which we live.

They may say so but there's one segment of our civilization which doesn't—at least, shouldn't—fit the age.

That segment is high school athletics.

Specialization is a word which does not belong in the high school athlete's dictionary. A high school boy may want to develop and pursue his own interests in a particular sport through a personal program of dedication. But he has no business being involved in a super-saturated year-round organized training program in a particular sport. He should be led to learn there may be other outlets of athletic activity which will be useful to his total development. Yet, it is an unfortunate fact that some boys in our schools today not only are specializing but also are receiving guidance to become specialists.

The sport of swimming is an example of the questionable and disturbing aspects of specialization. More than any other activity among WIAA sponsored sports, swimming has blossomed into a year-round program. Indoor pools, of course, lend themselves to being used all seasons of the year. This is one of the problems! And a community, no doubt, feels a swimming program should go on 12 months of the year in order to justify the cost of the pool. And this is another of the problems!

But the biggest problem of all is the too-enthusiastic coach who makes stepping-stones out of the other two problems and develops an over-emphasized swim program. This coach, or someone working with or for him, has his boys swimming the year round—not just in the winter for the WIAA season but in the summer and also in the spring and fall in community swim club activities.

Is such a program serving the best interests of the boy? Wouldn't it be better for this boy, who is obviously interested in a physical outlet the year round, to channel his energies into another area in the fall and spring? Isn't it enough to be swimming in competition four months in the winter and some more in the summer? Doesn't cross country or football in autumn and tennis, golf, baseball or track in the spring have something to offer this boy?

Swimming may be No. 1 on the list of activities contradicting the benefits of a diversified program but other sports are creeping in this direction. Tennis with its indoor facilities in some areas also is endangering the contention that a boy should not super-dedicate himself to one sport but should find other outlets for his athletic aspirations if he wants to be active more than just one particular season of the year.

The answer to the problem obviously rests with the coach—the person who not only has a close relationship but, much more, a powerful influence over the high school boy. A boy owes it to himself to diversify his physical and athletic interests yet so often he doesn't realize this importance. But a coach does know—and he owes it to his boy to guide him away from—not toward—concentration on one sport.

The high school boy who wants to be active in athletics all the year around belongs in more than one sport. There is plenty of time to specialize after high school; university-college level of competition decrees specialization.

And the high school boy must receive guidance from his coach—guidance which emphasizes benefits of diversification. There's a saying—a sport for every boy, and a boy for every sport. To paraphrase — a sport for every season and also a season for every sport. This is the kind of guidance a boy needs.

Long Beach Baseball Clinic Scheduled Saturday, Jan. 28

The 6th annual Long Beach Unified School District High School Baseball Coaches' Clinic has been scheduled for Saturday, January 28, it was announced this week by Clinic Director John Herbold, baseball coach at Long Beach Poly.

Free and open to any adult coach plus varsity players in their senior year, the clinic will be held on the Long Beach City College campus. City College is located at the corner of Carson and Lakewood in Long Beach.

Last year 737 coaches and players attended.

John Stevenson, head coach at El Segundo High, "AAA" CIF champions last season, will be one of the clinic's featured speakers. Stevenson will speak on general baseball coaching at the high school level.

CIF Player-of-the-Year Kemer Brett of El Segundo will accompany his high school coach.

Another former CIF Player-of-the-Year, pitcher Greg Conger, now of the Kansas City Athletics will speak on "The Pitcher Working in Coordination with the First Baseman." Conger pitched Lynwood to the CIF crown in 1964.

Working with Conger will be Gordon Goldsberry, scout with the Chicago Cubs and former major league first sacker.

Ollie Brown, former Poly star now with the San Francisco Giants, will demonstrate throwing technique and Coach Joe Hicks of LBCC will send his team through a 30 minute drill.

"Former directors Al Campanis of the Dodgers and Roland Hemond of the Angels have again assured us that they will have outstanding speakers on hand to cover other phases of the game," said Herbold this week. "Other major speakers will be announced in a special bulletin to all coaches later in the month."

Saari Featured at Polo Clinic

El Segundo High water polo coach Urho "Whitey" Saari spent Christmas in Ft. Lauderdale, Florida, lecturing at Olympic Water Polo Development Clinic.

Saari along with Ron Crawford, water polo coach at Beverly Hills, and Bob Saari all took part in the clinic which ran from Dec. 21 through 30.

Crawford was on the 1960 and 1964 Olympic water polo teams while Bob Saari, three-time CIF Player-of-the-Year, was on the 1964 Olympic squad.

the first half but El Rancho's experienced defensive unit which gave up just 54 points in 13 games stopped the Colonists cold after intermission.

Pope, who accounted for 34 touchdowns on the season (16 passing and 18 rushing) hit Patterson with a two yard scoring pass with 5:57 to play in the first half to open the scoring.

Using the "Bat-formation" the Colonists marched for the equalizer with 1:00 left in the half. Quarterback John "General" Ochoa swept five yards for the score. Ochoa also kicked the conversion.

Swift halfback Manny Chavez scored the go-ahead TD for the Dons with 2:41 left in the third period on an eight yard pass from Pope. Chavez tallied another with 6:27 left in the game on a two yarder from Pope to up the count to 21-7.

Anaheim's George Dalich caught a four yard scoring pass from Jim Fassell with 2:34 left to make the score 21-14 before Pope applied the clincher on a 52 yard jaunt on the first play following the Colony's unsuccessful attempt of an onside kick.

Jim McPherson converted five times for the Dons.

The final El Rancho score came on a two yard keeper by sub quarterback Fred Tippell with :32 to play after El Rancho recovered an onside kick on the Anaheim 24.

Pope finished the year with 661 yards and 18 TDs rushing and 74 pass completions in 128 attempts for 1143 yards and 16 touchdowns.

"We didn't want to spend too much time preparing for that Batman jazz," said Johnson afterward. "We knew we would have to throw the ball to win. The teams were closer than the final score indicated but these games are generally decided by breaks and ability to capitalize on them."

El Rancho scored a total of 518 points for the season in 13 games. It is believed to be an all-time CIF scoring record.

In play-off action El Rancho advanced to the finals with wins over Pius X (39-07), Blair (7-0) and Lakewood (33-14). Anaheim downed Inglewood (40-7), Wilson (20-0) and defending champion Mater Dei (12-7).

The Anaheim vs. Mater Dei game at Anaheim Stadium on December 9 drew 33,374 fans, a record for a non-championship game. The 25,049 for the finals was the second largest turnout since 1950.

Lawndale Rallies in Second Half To Top Victor Valley, 19-7, For "AA" CIF Crown

Lawndale capitalized on two second half Victor Valley fumbles and converted them into touchdowns that gave the Cardinals a 19-7 win over the Golden League school and the second straight CIF "AA" championship for the Pioneer League.

Victor Valley, seeking its first CIF title since the school opened in 1927, raced to a 7-0 lead in the second period on a one-yard sneak by quarterback Dave Blaser, climaxing a 71 yard drive. It was still 7-0 at intermission.

Lawndale came back with a pair of TDs in the third period and another in the fourth to ice the win.

The Cardinal's first TD came on a two yard plunge by fullback Rudy Metoyer after Lawndale took over on the Victor Valley 30 following an illegal man downfield penalty that surrendered the ball on fourth down. It came after a high pass from center forced a pass instead of a kick. When Van DenEikhoff was stopped on his try for PAT, the Jackrabbits maintained their lead, 7-6.

Two minutes later, with 5:37 to play in the period, Lawndale recovered a VV fumble on the 40 and in four plays it was 12-7. Jim Coleman passed 20 yards to end Doug Willard for the winning TD.

Victor Valley stopped another scoring drive in the fourth period when Mack Green recovered a fumble on the one. However, two plays later Lawndale's Steve Lumley fell on a Rabbit fumble in the endzone, making it 18-7. Rudy Metoyer ran the conversion.

Lawndale, champion of the Pioneer League, succeeds Palos Verdes of the same league as "AA" division champions. The Cardinals finished the season with a 9-2-1 record, losing only to Redondo (20-21), Bishop Montgomery (6-24) in non-league play and tying El Segundo (7-7) in league play.

In advancing to the finals Lawndale downed Eisenhower, 26-15, and Santa Clara, 13-6.

Victor Valley, champions of the Golden League, trimmed El Centro, 46-14 and Burroughs, 14-0, in advancing to the finals. The Rabbits finished the season 8-4.

St. Genevieve Tops Needles, 14-6 To Win Small Schools CIF Title

St. Genevieve, invited into the play-offs to fill the final bracket in the eight-team draw, made the selection pay dividends as the Valiants downed Needles, 14-6, on December 9 at Notre Dame High in Sherman Oaks to capture the CIF "Small Schools" gridiron championship.

It was the first time St. Genevieve had entered the football playoffs. Needles, on the other hand, was seeking its third championship in five years.

St. Genevieve, which finished the season with an 8-4 mark after being 1-3 at one stage, was runner-up to Lutheran in the Olympic League. Needles entered the play-offs as a free lance entrant.

For all intents the Valiants wrapped things up early when quarterback Dan Brown hit end Tom Page with a 45 yard scoring pass early in the second period. Steve Linnell booted his first of two conversions.

Joe Fama scored the second Valiant TD in the fourth period on a 16 yard run while Needles' only score came on a nine yard slant off-tackle in the fourth quarter.

St. Genevieve advanced to the finals with wins over Bishop (34-14) and Olympic League champion, Lutheran (13-2). Needles tripped Eagle Mountain (47-7) and Calipatria (32-6).

Neff Trojans Bump Rowland, 32-13 For "A" Division Title

CIF "A" Player-of-the-Year Randy Tyler and quarterback Dick Johnson paced a rampaging offensive attack that led Neff High of La Mirada to a 32-13 win over Rowland and the "A" division CIF championship on December 9 at Cerritos College.

Neff, a 33-7 winner over Rowland in a pre-league encounter, was in charge from the start. It marked the first team from the Norwalk-La Mirada Unified School District to win a CIF crown since 1932.

Tyler, selected by the Helms Foundation's Southern California Board of Football Writers as "Player-of-the-Year", scored a pair of touchdowns and passed for a third. Randy scored in the second period on a 75 yard sweep, scored on a nine yard pass from Dick Stephens in the fourth period and passed 26 yards to Phil Anderson for a third score.

As it turned out, a 25-0 halftime advantage was all the Trojans needed. Johnson passed 27 yards to Anderson for the first score. Bill Brown ran 20 yards with a fumble for the second TD before Tyler went 75 for the third. Johnson connected with Mel Desselle for nine yards and the fourth TD just before halftime.

Richard Hayes scored Rowland's first TD with 5:01 to play in the third quarter on a 49 yard pass-run play with Robbie Robertson. Eric Koenigshofer took a Robertson pass of 27 yards for the final Rowland TD.

Neff finished the campaign with a 10-2 mark. The undefeated champions of the Hacienda League losing only non-league games to El Segundo (13-7) and Valley Christian (19-13). In the play-offs, the Trojans downed Katella, 21-6; Hemet, 13-7; and Rowland.

Rowland, having perhaps the most unusual record of any team to gain the finals, finished with a 6-6 mark. The Raiders went 0-4 in non-league competition before finishing with a 4-1 mark in the Inland League losing only to South Hills. Highlight of the road to the play-offs was a 16-13 win over Alta Loma on the final night of the regular season.

In play-off competition, the Raiders downed San Jacinto, 32-7 and Coachella, 40-7 before running into the buzz-saw of Tyler and Johnson.

Other first team picks were Bob Shupp and Jerry Nourse of runner-up Downey; Paul Belskenhazy of third-place El Segundo and Rick Massimino of fourth-place Fullerton. McClellan was a first team choice last year while Carson and Schaumburg were second team selections.

Besides Martin and Stoner the second unit is comprised of Bryan Putnam and Ed French of Downey; Chip O'Rourke of Fullerton; Dave Gamage of El Segundo; Gregg Arth of Anaheim and Bruce Mitchell of Oxnard.

Massimino, Gamage and Arth are juniors while the remainder of the first and second team members are seniors.

Corona Del Mar won the CIF crown by defeating Downey 10-9 in overtime. The Sea Kings, besides successfully defending their 1965 championship, won 23 straight games this year and ran their streak to 38 over two seasons.

Schultz Scores Three TD's As South Pasadena Downs Morningside, 28-13, For "AAA" Crown

Jack Schultz scored three touchdowns to pace South Pasadena to a 28-13 win over Morningside in the CIF "AAA" championship game at Arcadia High on December 16.

South Pasadena led from the start, scoring once in each period. Schultz scored the first three Tiger touchdowns on runs of nine, three and one yards. Randy Phair scored the fourth TD on a one yard dive.

Schultz carried the ball 29 times for 159 yards, a 5.3 average.

Tommy Reynolds scored both Morningside touchdowns on runs of 72 and four yards.

Schultz was literally a "tiger" on defense too, as he intercepted a pair of Jim Bouton passes, one in the end-zone, ending an apparent TD drive by the Monarchs.

South Pasadena scored on its second series of the game and never looked back. The Tigers spent almost half of the first period moving the ball 56 yards. Schultz's 12 yard run and an 18 yard pass Phair to John Steller set up the nine yard score for Schultz.

Early in the second period Schultz again blasted in from four yards culminating a 60 yard drive in 10 plays.

Reynolds' 72 yarder put Morningside back in business temporarily but when Schultz scored from one yard out early in the second half, the issue was pretty well decided.

"Touchdown Tommy" scored again for Morningside in the closing seconds of the third stanza before Phair finished it off for South Pasadena in the fourth.

Enroute to the finals South Pasadena downed Glendale (7-0), Huntington Beach (17-7), Edgewood (28-21). Morningside topped Sierra (48-14), Santa Fe (26-6) and Bishop Montgomery (37-27).

Morningside finished the season 12-1 while South Pasadena was likewise 12-1. The Tigers' only loss was to an "AAAA" power, St. Francis, 22-14 in a non-league encounter.

South Pasadena represented the Rio Hondo League in the play-offs while Morningside is from the Sky League.
