COMMISSIONER'S CORNER

YOU'VE GOTTA LOVE IT!

By Stan Thomas
Commissioner of Athletics

Tradition has it, in the year-end edition of the CIF-SS Bulletin, the Commissioner devotes his column to an expression of appreciation, praise and congratulations to the thousands of people who make it all happen in the world of interscholastic athletics and the CIF Southern Section.

The notion brings to mind an often-used phrase, which I believe has a definite and special meaning in this business. Around our office — and especially during the hectic rush of playoff periods — I've heard one staff member say to another on more than one occasion: "you gotta love it."

It's an old cliché. A catch-phrase that means its time to "buck up," pal. In so many words, what it really means is: "sure we're knee deep in a tough and tedious job that we'll never get rich doing, but we're here because we want to be."

Before the 1990-91 school year becomes a memory, I am again compelled to express my personal gratitude and compliments to all of those, whose efforts make this tremendous machine run. Each year, it becomes increasingly evident that high school sports programs just couldn't happen without the devotion and commitment of the thousands of people willing to become involved.

They include the school administrators, who many times are forced to make the tough and unpopular decisions that, without question, become the foundation of every program at every school. The tireless athletic directors, whose never-ending efforts in scheduling, facilities preparation, travel and event staging become no less than a marriage to their school and to their job. They've gotta love it.

The coaches, whose personal interest, guidance and expertise means so very much to the youngsters they work with. In their association with students exists the opportunity — and yes, the responsibility

CORPORATE

CALIFORNIA ANGELS, HERFF JONES COMPANY MAINTAIN COMMITMENT TO HIGH SCHOOL SPORTS

The CIF Southern Section is proud of its business associations with the California Angels Baseball Club and the Herff Jones Awards Company, each of whom have continued effective support of high school athletics for many years.

The California Angels have co-sponsored the popular CIF-SS Academic Awards Program since its inception, providing the opportunity for literally thousands of student-athletes to receive much deserved recognition for their efforts in the classroom as well as on the playing field. The Angels have been involved with the CIF-SS corporate support program for seven years.

"The California Angels organization is proud of its achievements both on the playing field and throughout the community," says Vice-President Tom Seeberg. "We have made a strong commitment to support the community, which has stayed by our side through the years. Our association with the CIF Southern Section and its many fine programs is a highlight in our community activities."

"The CIF-SS Academic Awards Ceremony held each year at Anaheim Stadium is a 'must' to include in our pre-game efforts. Recognizing these outstanding student-athletes has given not only the Angels, but our fans as well, a feeling of great pride," added Seeberg.

The Herff Jones Company has been manufacturing all of the CIF-SS championship plaques and medals for the past eight years. The company not only has the exclusive right to utilize the CIF-SS logo on championship rings, it has earned the title of "Official Awards Company" of the CIF Southern Section.

"Herff Jones and its Southern California representatives are proud of our association with the CIF Southern Section these past eight years," points out Steve Forrel, Area Manager-Herff Jones Company. "Each year, our participation with the CIF-SS and its member schools has grown to higher levels of success. Awards programs such as the CIF-SS championship plaques, medals and rings are what we do best and take the most pride in accomplishing. Herff Jones looks forward to many years of continued support and strong commitment to the CIF-SS."

The member schools and student-athletes of the CIF Southern Section are fortunate to have the support of organizations such as the California Angels and the Herff Jones Company, which have displayed their strong belief in the importance of extracurricular school-based activities as a key component of the total educational picture.

"Both the Angels and Herff Jones have shown a strong sensitivity to the betterment of all student-athletes in the CIF Southern Section," notes Stan Thomas, CIF-SS Commissioner of Athletics. "We urge our member schools to patronize not only the Angels and Herff Jones, but all sponsors that have taken an active role in the success of high school athletics through the CIF Southern Section."

The California Angels and Herff Jones are joined by CIF state-wide sponsors Reebok and Pepsi-Cola, along with College Prospects of America, Conlin Brothers Sporting Goods, Ford, Gatorade, Jack-In-The-Box, SportsChannel Los Angeles, Sunny Delight Citrus Punch and Wilson Sporting Goods, as members of the CIF-SS Corporate Team.

GOLF FUND-RAISER SET FOR JUNE 27

In conjunction with the Southern California High School Golf Coaches Association, the CIF Southern Section will conduct its fifth annual Invitational Golf Tournament at California Country Club in Whittier on Thursday, June 27.

The "Shotgun-Scramble" tourney will begin at 2 p.m., with three levels of competition based on four-player teams. After play, a no-host reception begins at 7 p.m., followed by a barbecue dinner, awards ceremony and raffle. The tournament, which has gained popularity each year, will again benefit high school golf in the CIF Southern Section.

Golfers interested in participating may enter as singles, twosomes, threesomes or foursomes. The tournament entry fee (including dinner, electric cart and tee package) is just $85 per player. Dinner only is $25. The tournament committee also welcomes tee sponsorships at $100 per hole, half-sponsorships at $50 per hole and donations of raffle prizes, tee package materials or gifts to support high school golf.

So come on out for a great day on a beautiful course and help us to fill our field limit for a first time ever. For further information, please contact Kay Larson at the CIF-SS Office, (213) 860-2414 or (714) 826-5390.

CIF SOUTHERN SECTION COUNCIL MINUTES

2. PRESIDENT'S UPDATE — Dr. Tom Jacobson commended Executive Committee member Sheri Ross on her selection as Girls' Athletic Director of the Year by the California State Athletic Directors Association at their recent convention. Additionally, he announced the retirement and long service to the CIF-SS of Gene Knott. Chairman Jacobson reviewed a letter from the State CIF Commissioner Tom Byrnes commending Commissioner Stan Thomas for his leadership not only in the Southern Section but for his contributions to the State CIF as well. The current relegating process, along with Orange County concerns relative to area placement and re-sectioning were discussed, and the Council was thanked for their support and contributions throughout the school year.

The Commissioner also reviewed with the Council the "Shake Hands for Sportsmanship" program, officials' fees, baseball incidents and the major role coaches play in the area of sportsmanship, and the upcoming State appeal of five Orange County School Districts relative to the placement of the parochial schools in the public school relegating area.

Associate Commissioner Dean Crowley painted out to the Council that the responsibility for entry into CIF-SS basketball playoffs rested with the leagues and the building principal, and suggested leagues should take time to evaluate the quality of the teams they are entering into the playoffs.

Jim Perry, Boys' Basketball Coach and Athletic Director of La Quinta High School and currently a member of the Board of Directors of the Southern California Interscholastic Basketball Coaches Assn., reviewed concerns relative to the proliferation of the outside basketball spring programs.

EIGHT CONTRIBUTORS HONORED WITH CIF-SS GOLD LIFE PASS AWARD

Tom Aney

Lon Hardgrave

Herb Hill

Pete Pappas

Dr. Maury Ross

Earl Smick

Dick Tucker

Barbara Wilson

The CIF Southern Section honored eight outstanding contributors to high school athletics with the CIF-SS Gold Life Pass award at its April 25 Council Meeting. The award is emblematic of the highest honor the organization can bestow upon an individual.

Biographical sketches of the honorees follow . . .

TOM ANEY

A man who spent 32 years of close involvement with high school athletics and the CIF Southern Section, Tom Aney consistently displayed a commitment to the goals and philosophy of the organization.

Aney, who served as the Principal of Rowland High School for 17 years, received perhaps his greatest tribute when the school's new stadium was named in his honor in 1985.

A 1950 graduate of Fresno State, Aney began his career as a varsity football coach at Paramount and La Puente High Schools between 1955-58. He moved on to Los Altos High, and in 1962 became the athletic and activities director at Nogales High School. Aney began his association with Rowland High in 1964, where he served as Assistant Principal between 1964-69, before being named principal in 1970.

His CIF-SS affiliations included service as president of the Montview (1973-75) and Sierra Leagues (1980-82), in addition to serving as the Mt. San Antonio Area relegating chairman between 1982-86.

LON HARDGRAVE

Lon Hardgrave, who served for many years as assistant principal in charge of activities and athletics at La Sierra High School in Riverside, immersed himself in the purpose, function and support of CIF Southern Section activities throughout his career. He consistently worked to make high school athletics a rewarding experience for student-athletics throughout the section.

Between 1970-88, Hardgrave served in a variety of leadership capacities both at his school and with the CIF Southern Section. He was the San Andreas League Representative to the Council between 1975-79 and was president of the Citrus Belt Area Athletic Association from 1980-81. In 1982, he joined the CIF Southern Section Executive Committee, for which he served through the 1985-86 school year.

Hardgrave will long be remembered as an administrator who championed the cause of interscholastic athletics for girls whenever the opportunity presented itself.

HERB HILL

During a highly-successful career that spanned 28 years at Loara High School in Anaheim, head football coach Herb Hill instilled the values of team work, discipline and ethics in the character of the youngsters who participated in his program.

Although Hill wound up his career as the winningest high school grid coach in Orange County history (191-113-11), he'll likely be remembered more as a good man than as a good coach. Among his peers, he received great respect for his ethical and gracious manner both on and off the field. As for his gridiron successes, Hill leaves a legacy of 10 league and two CIF Southern Section Championships.

A graduate of Occidental College, Hill began his coaching career as an assistant at Garden Grove High School. In 1956, he landed his first head coaching position at Rancho Alamitos High and in 1960 moved to Orange Coast College as an assistant for a single season. After a stop at Long Beach State, where he earned his masters' degree in 1961, Hill became the first and only head

THE ATHLETIC DIRECTOR'S RESPONSIBILITY FOR CROWD CONTROL

The following information, fourth in a series devoted to a section-wide improvement in the areas of contest safety and sportsmanship, points out the importance of the athletic director's role in crowd control.

The athletic director is the key person when it comes to putting the entire athletic program in proper perspective and in establishing sound crowd control procedures. Specifically, the athletic director should:

- Prepare all game contracts specifying dates, times, and locations, and keep all signed contracts on file for each sport. These files should be current. All contracts should be coordinated with the school district's athletic director before being signed by individual school principals.
- Check with the physician assigned before each home football or basketball game to be certain that he/she will be present. If not, see that another physician is in attendance.
- Meet the visiting team, coaches, and administrators and welcome them to your school as guests.
- See that game programs are distributed.
- Hire and authorize payment of all game officials and other appropriate personnel including police, team physician, announcer, timer, ticket sellers, and ticket takers.
- Inspect and approve all game facilities including scoreboard, team and officials' dressing rooms.
- Provide game officials with towels and game balls.
- See that the public address system is functioning properly.
- Make sure that only authorized personnel are seated in the press box. Press box tickets should be issued by the school district's director of athletics.
- Arrange for the flag-raising ceremony and playing of the national anthem with band director.
- Reconfirm all dates with the visiting school and game officials one week prior to the game.

football coach at newly-opened Loara High.

PETE PAPPAS

A man who served the cause of athletics on many levels for some 38 years, Pete Pappas personified the values, ideals and high standards of the CIF Southern Section and the educational code throughout his career.

A standout athlete in his youth, Pappas played football and baseball at Pasadena High School and went on to a successful career at Pasadena City College and Santa Clara University. After wartime service with the Navy Shore Patrol, he returned to Pasadena to begin his career in education and athletics as a teacher, football and baseball coach at Marshall Junior High.

He moved to John Muir High to coach the same sports in 1959, and in 1964 accepted the position of athletic director at Blair High School. In 1968, he was elevated to the position of assistant principal in charge of student activities at Blair. Six years later, Pappas returned to serve as principal at his alma mater, Pasadena High, a position he held until retiring in 1986.

Throughout his career, Pappas maintained close ties to athletics, officiating football at the high school, junior college and college levels for 30 years. He also served the CIF Southern Section as president of the Pacific League for two terms, was vice president of the Foothill League and sat on many CIF-SS committees.

DR. MAURY ROSS

An outstanding high school and collegiate athlete, Dr. Maury Ross spent a long and successful career in educational administration and remained a loyal proponent to the cause of interscholastic athletics until the time of his retirement in 1990.

A graduate of the University of Western Illinois, Ross served in the United States Navy in the South Pacific during World War II. He returned to settle in Southern California and began his career in education at Long Beach Poly High School, where he was an extremely successful varsity football coach.

Ross made a successful transition into school administration, joining the Orange Unified School District as an intermediate school principal, followed by a move to the La Mirada-Norwalk School District Office as assistant superintendent and ultimately superintendent.

In the late 1970s he was named Superintendent of the Tustin Unified School District, where he later was selected as the first State Superintendent Representative to the CIF, in addition to being named Superintendents' Representative to the CIF-SS Executive Committee. Perhaps his most dramatic contribution to interscholastic athletics was his leadership in the early 1980s in the passage of State Senate Bill 90, which determined that the program should be a jurisdiction and responsibility of local school districts, as well as establishing the constitutional authority of the CIF in the state.

EARL SMICK

If the first and foremost goal of a high school athletic director is to serve the school's student-athletes, Earl Smick is a prime example of someone who had a very successful career. For 26 years, Smick provided total commitment to literally thousands of students at Savanna High School of Anaheim.

During his many years at Savanna, Smick never missed an athletic contest, an athletic directors meeting or a banquet. He was known by colleagues as a man who never sought the limelight, but served in capacities where his leadership resulted in good things happening for the students.

Smick was an early leader in drug education for high school athletes and was an advocate of minimal academic requirements, formulating the 2.0 GPA policy that currently serves as the state model.

A graduate of Carthage College in Illinois, Smick began his association with Savanna High in 1965. He has been honored as the Orange County Athletic Director of the Year, the Greater Anaheim — to instruct in the areas of personal conduct and motivation, ethical values and even morals. Imagine the degree of difficulty in teaching intangibles such as the work ethic or the team concept, compared to that of any other subject. Coaches are unfairly pressured to win and keep the parents happy, while collecting little compensation for their long hours. In many cases, high school coaches also must handle the equipment, be a grounds keeper, raise their own funds and drive the team bus. You'd better believe they've gotta love it.

A big thank you, too, to the thousands of support personnel, beginning with our many fine corporate sponsors. Their continued commitment to financial support enables us to maintain a high level of service for our member schools. The officials and their assigners, without whose willingness to accept constant scrutiny and pressure, the contests could not be played. The faculty members who manage the band, drill teams and cheerleaders, who add pageantry and atmosphere to high school sporting events. The members of the Kiwanis' Man of the Year and the Los Angeles Rams' Educator of the Year, for his work in the Adopt-A-School Program and Drug Prevention Programs.

DICK TUCKER

A native Southern Californian, Dick Tucker enjoyed a highly-successful career as a football coach at various levels. Tucker will best be remembered for his outstanding teams at Orange Coast College, where he concluded his career after the 1984 football season.

Tucker began his coaching and teaching career at Brea-Olinda High School in 1951. He coached varsity football and basketball at Brea until 1961, where his Wildcat football teams won league championships in 1953, 1956, 1957, 1958, 1959, 1960 and 1961. In 1959 and in 1960, his teams won the CIF-SS 1-A Divisionship Championship, and in 1961, he guided the Wildcats to a divisional runner-up finish in basketball as well.

A graduate of Long Beach Jordan High School, Tucker went on to complete his education at Whittier College.

BARBARA WILSON

A strong leader in the girls athletic movement of the early 1970's, Barbara Wilson was a tremendous influence in helping pave the way for the highly-successful girls interscholastic athletic program in the CIF-SS and throughout the state.

see LIFE PASS page 10

media, who toil in the least convenient of facilities to provide recognition for the student-athletes, teams and schools. The parent-booster organizations and community volunteers who help out in a number of ways. And of course, the many spectators, whose loyal following must be considered "square-one" in the support of high school athletics.

Finally, here's to our many fine student-athletes, who have shown the initiative to make a commitment during their teenage years. To express desire, determination and personal effort. To devote themselves to a program of their own choosing and to see it through, from the opening day of practice to the last contest of the season. To abide by the rules, regulations and discipline required in all athletic endeavors. Certainly the student-athletes for whom we serve "gotta love it," and we are very proud of them.

In closing out this 78th year of CIF Southern Section competition, I would like to wish you all an enjoyable and productive summer, and the best of luck in the coming school year.

CLARK GOODWIN, DAVE HERNANDEZ RECEIVE HALL OF FAME RECOGNITION AWARD

The CIF Southern Section is pleased to announce the addition of two names to the list of its Hall of Fame Recognition Awards winners, with the induction of Clark Goodwin of Montclair High School and Dave Hernandez of Western and Los Alamitos High Schools.

The Hall of Fame Recognition Award was established in 1984 to bring public recognition to the numerous individuals who have contributed directly to the advancement of interscholastic athletics within the CIF Southern Section.

CLARK GOODWIN

"The CIF Southern Section Hall of Fame Recognition Award is indicative of excellence, devotion and commitment to student-athletes, school and community for a prolonged period of time," points out Stan Thomas, Commissioner of Athletics. "Speaking on behalf of the Executive Committee and our member schools, we are honored to recognize these most deserving recipients. We also congratulate them for their many years of outstanding service to interscholastic athletics."

A biographical look at the 1990 inductees follows . . .

CLARK GOODWIN

It can accurately be said that during his long and successful career, Clark Goodwin was the greatest supporter in the history of the Montclair High School athletic program. After all, Goodwin went through somewhere between 1,000 and 1,100 roles of adhesive tape in each of his 31 years as the Montclair trainer.

Goodwin's pleasant demeanor made him a popular figure with the students for whom he served. He routinely put in 11- and 12-hour days tending to the needs of the athletes, and whenever Friday rolled around, he would easily log 17 hours or more when a varsity football or basketball game would last into the 10 o'clock hour.

Beyond his efforts at Montclair, Goodwin would regularly involve himself with the athletic events at other schools by assisting with training activities, including invitational events and CIF competition. He had a tremendous impact on the athletic program at Montclair, yet prided himself in serving behind the scenes in a position of little recognition.

Goodwin had a tremendous knowledge of athletics and was a father figure for young coaches, as well as a sounding board for the old-timers. Most importantly, though, was the relationship he maintained with the students at Montclair High. As a school administrator put it, many athletes earned their diploma because Clark was there to guide and counsel them.

Born in Santa Monica and raised in Ontario, Goodwin attended Chaffey High School, where he played varsity basketball and baseball. At Chaffey College, from where he earned his Associate Arts Degree, he was an All-Eastern Conference selection in both sports.

Goodwin also studied athletic training at USC, UCLA, Los Angeles State College, Orange County Medical Association and Orthopedic Hospital in Los Angeles. He also worked for six years at Wood Memorial, a sports medical facility in Pomona. His list of awards include an Outstanding Achievement in the Field of Youth Development from the city of Montclair in 1990; a Recognition of Contribution to Education from the Chaffey Joint Union High School district in 1980; and a Special Service Award for Contribution to Education from the Chaffey District in 1985.

DAVE HERNANDEZ

During a career that spanned 35 years in public education, Dave Hernandez earned a reputation as one of the most highly respected and successful baseball coaches in CIF Southern Section history. At the pinnacle of his success in the sport, he moved into school administration, where he again proved highly successful in his final 12 years of service.

Hernandez, who began his coaching career at newly-opened Western High School in Anaheim in 1959, directed his teams to 13 league championships, 12 playoff berths, two CIF-SS championship game appearances and five playoff runs to the quarterfinal round or beyond.

After helping to establish the athletic program and a winning tradition at Western High, Hernandez moved on to another new-born school, Los Alamitos High. At Los Al, he became the school's first athletic director and had his most impressive and consistent success on the diamond. Under Hernandez, the Griffin varsity won no less than eight consecutive league championships and developed into a CIF-SS baseball power.

Hernandez won Orange County Coach of the Year honors in 1963 at Western, and again in 1970 and 1973 at Los Alamitos. He also was honored as Orange County's "Coach of the Decade" for the 1970s. No less than 29 of his players signed major-league contracts, six of whom went on to major league careers: Craig Chamberlain (Royals); Greg Harris (Phillies); Andy Messersmith (Dodgers and Angels); Clint Start (Cardinals); Larry Stewart (Giants); and Rich Severson (Royals).

Hernandez left Los Alamitos High for an Assistant Principal position with the Anaheim Unified School District in 1977. By 1980 he was elevated to District Program Specialist, directing the Limited English Proficient Student Program as well as the Anaheim District E.S.L. Program. He retired in June of 1989.

A graduate of Anaheim High School, where he excelled in football, basketball, baseball and student-leadership roles, Hernandez spent two years at Fullerton College before going on to Fresno State on a football scholarship. A veteran of the Korean War, Hernandez also served in the U.S. Army between 1951 and 1954.

NINTH-ANNUAL DODGER-ADOHR FARMS

"SHAKE FOR SPORTSMANSHIP" AWARDS HONOR 71 SCHOOLS

Perhaps the most meaningful of all awards activities conducted by the CIF Southern Section are the annual "Shake For Sportsmanship Awards," co-sponsored by the Los Angeles Dodgers and Adohr Farms Dairies.

For a ninth-consecutive time this spring, the Dodgers and Adohr Farms collaborated with the CIF Southern Section and Los Angeles City Section, in honoring member schools for their display of sportsmanlike conduct during this past school year. Each of the winning schools were honored in ceremonies conducted at Dodger Stadium prior to the Dodgers-Houston Astros game of May 29.

The winning schools, representing their respective leagues, were awarded for distinguished conduct in the principles of positive sportsmanship. Although each of the leagues are free to establish their own criteria in making their selections, guidelines provided by the CIF-SS include participation, enthusiasm, behavior at home and away games, treatment of opponents and treatment of contest officials. The judging is based not only on the competitors, but the school's band members, drill teams, pep squads, cheerleaders and student-rooting sections as well.

"We are very proud of the continuing success of this most important awards program," points out Stan Thomas, CIF-SS Commissioner of Athletics. "The schools receiving this award are to be commended for the direction provided by their administration and coaching staffs, and especially for the positive actions of their student body memberships."

Each of the schools singled out were provided with tickets for their representatives to be in attendance at Dodger Stadium for the awards presentation, in addition to commemorative plaques, supplied by Adohr Farms, to display on their campuses.

"Speaking on behalf of both the CIF-SS and L.A. City Sections, we wish to thank the Dodgers and Adohr Farms for their continued efforts in promoting the spirit of good sportsmanship in high school athletics," added Thomas.

CALIFORNIA ANGELS, FORD HONOR CIF-SS TEAMS, STUDENT-ATHLETES WITH ACADEMIC AWARDS

In a joint effort between the California Angels and the Ford Motor Company, the CIF Southern Section recognized outstanding teams and individual student-athletes from its member schools for academic excellence, in the sixth annual CIF-SS California Angels/Ford Academic Awards Program at Anaheim Stadium on April 30.

"We salute the efforts of both the Angels and Ford for their continued support of this most worthwhile program," said CIF-SS Commissioner of Athletics Stan Thomas. "Their initiative has provided the student-athletes of our member schools with an academic challenge. The CIF Southern Section welcomes this opportunity to recognize the successful union of academics and athletics achieved by these outstanding youngsters."

The team awards, based on cumulative team grade point average, were presented in 22 sports. To be considered, a school team must have accomplished a combined 3.0 G.P.A. (on a four-point scale) in college-prep courses for the first semester of the 1990-91 school year. The winning teams were guests of the Angels at their game against the Cleveland Indians on April 30. The winning teams also received a banner for permanent display on their campuses, in addition to certificates for all team members.

The "CIF-SS Student-Athletes of the Year" must be seniors with a minimum grade point average of 3.5 in college-prep courses for the past three years, in addition to lettering in at least one varsity sport and participating in an extracurricular activity. Each of these honorees also had the opportunity to be in attendance at the April 30 Angels-Indians game.

College-prep courses are recognized as including communications, English, literature, fine arts, foreign language, mathematics, natural sciences and social sciences. A complete list of the 1990-91 CIF-SS Angels/Ford Academic Award winners follows.

LIFE PASS

A UCLA graduate, Wilson began her educational career at Beverly Hills High School, where she was elevated to the position of vice principal. Being a strong advocate of girls athletics, but not at the expense of the boys program, Wilson was named the first-ever Girls Athletic Directors' Representative to the CIF Southern Section Executive Committee. She also became the first woman representative to the CIF State Federated Council.

In the mid 1980's Wilson moved to the Tustin Unified School District, where she became principal of the continuation high school. She was later elevated to the position of District Director of Negotiations at Tustin, and ultimately became an Assistant Superintendent in 1990.

Her contributions to the CIF Southern Section have been many, but perhaps her work with Dr. Maury Ross in the passage of Senate Bill 90 in 1980 is the highlight. Wilson is continuing her association with the CIF as a consultant to the State Office.

NATIONAL FED. BASKETBALL RULE REVISIONS FOR 1991-92

In a move to improve sportsmanship in high school basketball, technical fouls will be combined with personal fouls for player disqualification.

In its April 7-9 meeting in Kansas City, the National Federation Basketball Rules Committee made the change based on positive experiences from two states this past season. Beginning with the 1991-92 season, any combination of five personal or technical fouls will disqualify a player from a game.

"The rules committee has a big concern about improving sportsmanship and behavior in high school basketball," said Dick Schindler, assistant director of the National Federation and editor of the high school basketball rules. "The committee believed that technical fouls should count toward disqualifying a player from the game. We are hopeful that this change will reduce the number of technical fouls."

In concert with this change, the committee voted to add all technical fouls to personal fouls to reach the bonus situation. Since all fouls will be counted, the bonus situation will start now on the seventh team foul in each half instead of the fifth personal foul. All fouls — personal and technical — on a team, including the coach, will count toward the seven in each half.

"This change was made for two purposes — from a sportsmanship perspective and to reduce the number of trips to the free-throw line," Schindler said. "We won't be shooting free throws on the fifth and sixth fouls of a half anymore, which means fewer free throws and more action."

The committee also voted to reduce from three to two the number of technical fouls for disqualification of a player or bench personnel. Three technical fouls still are necessary to disqualify a head coach.

Two changes were made relative to the three-point field goal. Beginning next season, three free throws will be awarded a player who is fouled in the act of shooting an unsuccessful three-point field goal. In the same scenario with an intentional personal foul, the fouled player would receive three free throws and the team would also get the ball out-of-bounds for a throw-in at the spot nearest the foul.

"This was discussed when the three-point field goal was first used experimentally nine years ago, but we elected to stay with two free throws," Schindler said. "Now that the three-point basket has become so much a part of the game and is defended so aggressively, the committee felt it was time to make the change."

In another major change, lack of action has been deleted from high school basketball. Schindler said that many coaches and players, and even some officials, did not really understand lack of action and that the game will not change by deleting the rule.

"High school basketball is a game of action, so this change will not affect the game," Schindler said. "We are starting the next 100 years with an action game. We don't have a shot clock, and we shouldn't dictate that teams may not hold the ball — that's a part of game strategy. We don't want to force kids to shoot within a specified time; that's a part of strategy. The change will simply not affect the game that much because teams could stall even within the lack-of-action restrictions. High school basketball has great appeal at this time because there is very little lack of action."

In other changes, the rules committee voted to allow compression shorts which extend below the game pants. The shorts must be similar in color to the predominate color of the game pants and must be unadorned and of a single, solid color.

A rule adopted for high school football this past season also was approved by the basketball rules committee. For safety reasons, an unconscious or apparently unconscious athlete will not be allowed to re-enter the game without written authorization by a physician. In the event a physician is not present or does not authorize re-entry, the athlete may not return to participate.

The game officials are responsible for determining if a player has been rendered unconscious or is apparently unconscious.

In another safety move, the rules committee voted to require each basket ring to be attached securely to the backboard/support system with a ring-restraining device. Schindler said this device will prevent the ring from falling if the backboard is shattered.

In other changes, the committee deleted the gray color requirement for backboard
