SPRING SPORTS IN FULL SWING

STARS OF SPRING: Esperanza shortstop Tom Redington (left) and Pomona hurdler Janeene Vickers are standouts among the thousands of CIF Southern Section student-athletes currently engaged in the busy spring season. Redington, an ALL-CIF pick who led the Aztecs to a 4-A baseball crown last year, is nearing the all-time CIF-SS career home run record. Vickers remains at the apex of her sport after capturing CIF-SS and state titles in both the 100 and 300 meter low hurdles a year ago.

COMMISSIONER'S CORNER

LETTER PERFECT SPORTSMANSHIP

Good sportsmanship is one of the cornerstones of the CIF Southern Section. As we note in our Constitution and Code of Ethics... "to foster training in sportsmanship" and... "emphasizing the proper ideals of sportsmanship", are concepts that promote the high ideals of interscholastic athletics.

As our basketball season and playoffs conclude, it is a pleasure to receive letters from member schools that are complimentary toward their opponent — win or lose.

Two short letters are reproduced for your review. I strongly endorse this positive approach to Southern Section hospitality and game management.

"I would like to express my thanks for the hospitality we experienced last Wednesday evening. My team and I felt that we were treated very nicely, and I wanted you to know that. I also would like to say that I felt your fans were very supportive of your team and very cordial towards us. A number of them approached me after the game, congratulated us, and wished us luck. Fans like these are not always easy to find. After a hard-fought game as that, it is unfortunate that one team's season is over. Again, I want to thank you for the way we were treated and let you know we appreciated it."...

"As you know, our school played a second round CIF-SS game on Wednesday, February 23rd. On behalf of our school, I would like to thank you for your hospitality. The athletic director and coach made us feel very much at home. Your pep squad handed out small candy bars to our fans, and we really appreciated it. It is a real honor to play teams that have the class your program has exhibited. Scores, wins, losses are easily forgotten but our trip to your school will be a positive memory for our players, coaches and fans."

In summary, as an athletic administrator, taking time to share lasting and positive relationships with opponents proves successful in every avenue of interscholastic athletics. Take time to evaluate a contest and then, send a note thanking people who have had a successful hand in managing your game or match.

CALIFORNIA ANGELS—DAVID & SONS TEAM-UP FOR BASEBALL; ROUND TABLE BECOMES INAUGURAL TRACK SPONSOR

The California Angels Baseball Club enters its third year of sponsoring the CIF-SS baseball championships, but have expanded this year's sponsorship to include the softball championships. David & Sons, the leading manufacturer of sunflower seeds has joined with the Angels to co-sponsor both the baseball and softball championships. As part of the joint sponsorship, the CIF-SS has agreed to combine the previously separate baseball and softball championship game programs into one 100-page 4-color program which will offer both sports a major quality

The Angels' sponsorship of these spring sports is part of an overall CIF-SS marketing plan that includes the co-sponsorship of the CIF-SS Academic Awards Program with the Ford Motor Company. "The California Angels are proud of our winning baseball team, but also take great satisfaction in our community programs which include the sponsorship of the CIF-SS baseball and softball championships. The Angels currently lead the Major Leagues in CIF-SS alumni playing for any one team, and a large portion of our fans are either current or former members of this outstanding organization. We wish the participants of these championships well and look forward to seeing them at our games as either fans or as our future players," said Tom Seeberg, Vice President-Public Relations, California Angels.

David & Sons, a new CIF-SS sponsor, became involved to assure the continued high quality of the baseball and softball championships. "David & Sons proudly supports the goals and efforts of the CIF-SS. We are confident that our affiliation with the Southern Section achieves our main objectives. Primarily we have gained added exposure and awareness of our products as a healthy snack. Additionally, we have played a key role in assuring that the activities offered by the CIF-SS remain at their present high level. We thank the Southern Section for the positive image we project together through CIF-SS events," said Peggy Avakian, Marketing Assistant-David & Sons.

The Southern California Round Table Pizza Operators decided to sponsor the CIF-SS Divisional and Masters Track Championships as a way of supporting the largest number of athletes from each of their respective Round Table locations. The inaugural sponsors of track and field, Round Table has established fundraising opportunities for CIF-SS member schools available at each local Round Table Restaurant.

"It has always been the attitude of Round Table Pizza that we support and be a part of each community in which we belong. By supporting the CIF-SS, it gives us another opportunity to recognize student-athletes for their significant accomplishments," said Ron Bieber, President-Round Table Pizza Orange County Owner's Association.

The California Angels, David & Sons and Round Table Pizza are joined on the CIF-SS corporate support foundation by: Adohr Farms Dairies, Army National Guard, Chief Auto Parts, Coca Cola Bottling Company of Los Angeles, Conlin Bros. Sporting Goods, The Finals, Ford, Gatorade, Herff Jones, Jack in the Box, Los Angeles Dodgers, Saucony/Spot-bilt, 7-Eleven Food Stores, Sunny Delight and the Wilson Sporting Goods Company.

CIF-SS INVITATIONAL GOLF TOURNEY FOUNDED AS ATHLETIC FUNDRAISER

Conceptualized as a fundraiser to assist in the underwriting of its various athletic programs, the CIF Southern Section will stage an invitational golf tournament at Whittier's California Country Club (shown above) on Thursday, August 27. The tournament will also serve as the official kickoff to the CIF Southern Section's 75th Anniversary celebration, which will be marked during the 1987-88 school year.

Officially named the "First Annual CIF Southern Section Invitational Golf Tournament", the event is being planned as a yearly affair. The concept calls for numerous television, radio and sports personalities to be in participation along with friends, coaches, administrators and faculty members of CIF-SS schools.

"We think this tournament is an innovative idea with an unlimited potential," notes Stan Thomas, CIF-SS Commissioner of Athletics. "If it's successful, —and we see no reason why it shouldn't be— it can be a tremendous vehicle for maintaining the quality athletic programs fostered by the CIF Southern Section."

The tournament will be played in a "shotgun-scrabble" format, with designated teams playing "best-ball" rules and starting simultaneously on each of the 18 tees. The field will be limited to 200 players, with an estimated entry fee of $150 per player. The tax-deductible fee will include 18 holes of golf and cart, in addition to a post-tournament barbecue dinner.

Other features of the event include corporate sponsorships for each of the 18 see GOLF TOURNAMENT page 10 tees, a raffle-ticket drawing and an auction of donated gifts. The tournament committee is also exploring the possibility of a post-tournament "derby", a one-ball, one-club elimination contest involving eight celebrities, or a golf clinic featuring an attending pro.

"A real key to the success of this endeavor is the involvement of CIF-SS member schools," added Thomas. "We need participation and assistance in a number of areas, such as publicizing the event, securing donations and prizes, contacting name players, providing staffing and filling out the tournament field itself. All of our member schools will benefit from the success of this tournament and a section-wide team effort would certainly help to make it happen."

Members of the tournament committee include former CIF-SS Council President Moe Chavez, CIF-SS Golf Administrator Dean Crowley, Jim Steele, Bill Brady and Bill Butcher.

PADDLEFORD & SON DONATES ADDITION

The CIF-SS office building in Cerritos is growing through the efforts of the A.J. Paddleford & Son Construction Company. The builders are one of the largest independent contractors in the Long Beach/Cerritos area and have recently built Cerritos' Auto Square. In business since 1938, the family-owned firm is very supportive of community projects.

"We all think in our company that the good of athletics is immeasurable. This is our way of saying 'thank you' to the CIF-SS. If through this contribution we can help high school athletics, then it is a good investment for the community," said Gene Emmons, Vice President-A.J. Paddleford & Son, Inc.

Paddleford has underwritten the complete cost of the construction of a new conference room and two new offices as well as the remodeling of the existing conference room into two additional offices. In addition to the construction, Paddleford has provided the plans, architectural services and has provided a space in the addition for a new telephone switching station that will modernize the existing CIF-SS system. The entire new complex is due to be operational by the conclusion of this school year.

Stan Thomas, CIF Southern Section Commissioner of Athletics, has expressed excitement with Paddleford's generosity. "The gift that Paddleford & Son is making to the CIF-SS is one that allows for an expansion of our office that would otherwise be impossible. Our staff has grown over the past ten years, yet the facilities have remained constant until this fine company arranged for its growth. Our larger facilities will hopefully increase and improve the services we provide to our member schools. On behalf of our almost 500 high schools we salute A.J. Paddleford & Son for taking this generous step to support its community."

BASKETBALL RULES COMMITTEE TAKES ACTION

NATIONAL FEDERATION INSTALLS THREE-POINT SHOT

By all expectations, the three-point field goal for high school basketball would eventually be an adopted book rule, but few anticipated the swiftness in which the National Federation Basketball Rules Committee enacted the rule in its March 23-24 meeting. Effective with the opening of the 1987-88 season, any successful field goal attempt beyond 19 feet, 9 inches will count three points, for both boys and girls at all levels of competition.

The 19-9 distance is measured from the center of the goal (63 inches from the inside edge of the baseline) to the outside of the existing two-inch line at the top of the semi-circle.

"It is the fastest major rule change I have seen the National Federation pass in my 12 years here," noted Dean Crowley, CIF-SS Administrator in charge of basketball. "Usually, two or three years of lead time is given to a new rule which involves an expenditure (such as painting lines on the floor)."

Although the three-point field goal has been allowed on an optional basis for the past two seasons, some states have been experimenting with the shot for five years. This past season, nine states employed the three-point rule and three additional states had already approved it for the 1987-88 campaign. Two CIF Southern Section leagues—the Sunset and Freeway—became the first in California to experiment with the rule this past season.

"With the growing interest in the three-point field goal and the success that many states have enjoyed, the National Rules Committee believed there was no need to delay the implementation of the play on a nationwide basis," said Dick Shindler, editor of the National Federation basketball rules and assistant director of the Kansas City-based National Federation of State High School Associations.

"Putting the three-point line on gymnasium floors is not an expensive consideration, since tape can be used as well as paint, so the rule change should not be a financial burden on any high school," added Shindler.

"All states that have been using the three-point field goal have been supportive of the play. Most think it has made the game better, and the committee believes the three-point field goal is here to stay at the college level. With some states using the three-point goal and others not using the rule, we've had two different games being played the past two years. The committee wanted uniformity across the country."

Although the three-point field goal was the most significant, the National Basketball Rules Committee has initiated four additional changes for the 1987-88 season, two of which deal with technical fouls.

All technical fouls will now carry a two-shot penalty. Previously, only one free throw was awarded the opposing team for certain infractions. The change was made to simplify the administration of technical fouls. Also, an additional penalty will be added to rule 10-3-6, which will charge a technical foul to the head coach (in addition to the player) for dunking and grasping the rim during pre-game and halftime warmups.

In other major rules changes, players may only occupy one of the eight marked free-throw lane spaces or position themselves behind the three-point line and the free-throw line extended during foul shots. The committee deleted the unmarked areas nearest the free-throw line and the arch around the semi-circle.

The committee also made minor editorial changes or clarifications in the following rules:

Rule 4-12-2c: Deleted one act which previously ended a dribble. "The dribbler is unable to immediately catch or continue to dribble the ball" will no longer be part of the criteria to determine the ending of a dribble.

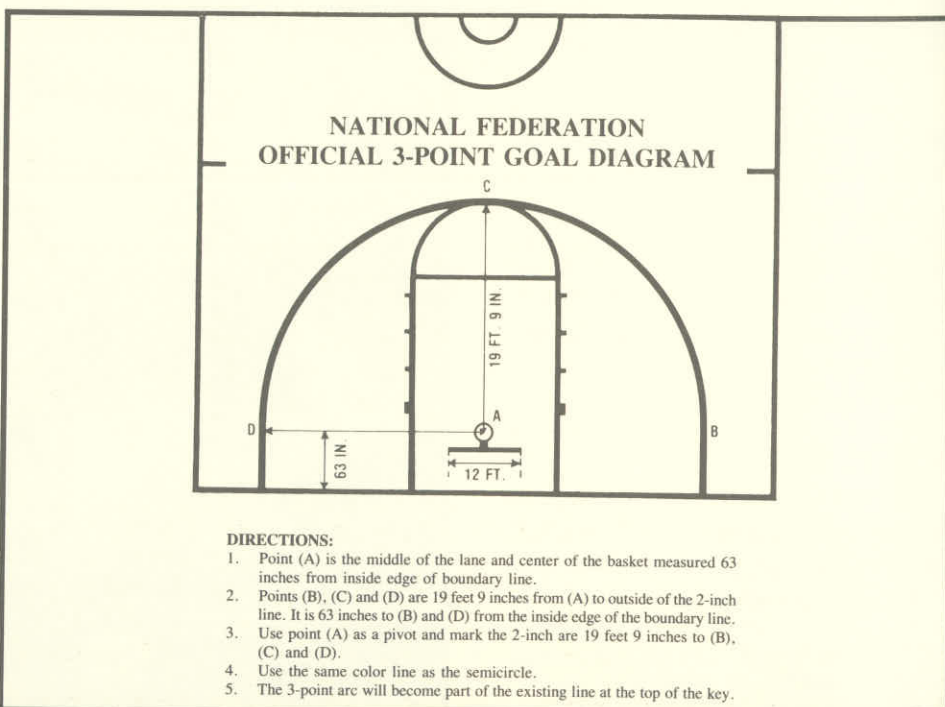

Rules 4-1-5, 6-3-1, 4-8: Further defined the possession arrow and when it is to be set and reversed.

Rule 7-5-9: Following free throws for a flagrant personal foul, the ball will be awarded out of bounds nearest the foul.

Rule 10-4-1g: Substitutes must be seated whether the clock is running or stopped.

The rules committee selected two concerns for "Points of Emphasis" this year. The committee noted problems with teams resuming play after a timeout or intermission and encourages resumption of the game as the rules states. In addition, the committee re-emphasized the procedures that a substitute should follow when entering the game, and scorers should not alert the officials unless a substitute has reported properly.

National Federation playing rules are used by approximately 17,000 high schools and nearly 500,000 participants in boys basketball, as well as more than 16,000 schools offering girls programs for nearly 400,000 participants. From the standpoint of school programs, basketball is the most popular interscholastic sport in the United States.

ORANGE COUNTY AREA TO INITIATE PILOT PROGRAM FOR ASSIGNING OFFICIALS

With the beginning of the 1987-88 school year, the Orange County area of the CIF Southern Section will employ a pilot program for the assignment of athletic officials in all sports. In addition to assigning officials in Orange County next year, the program will act as a model to determine the feasibility of section-wide use in the future.

The major thrust of the new program calls for the officials' associations in each sport to become directly involved with the process of assigning officials for athletic contests.

In place of the local area assigner, the CIF-SS Office will employ a person designated as the "Officials' Liaison", whose major responsibility will be to gather the area schools' schedules in all sports for the various associations. The liaison will also coordinate communications between the CIF-SS Office, member schools and the official associations.

Each sport association will in turn employ its own designated assigner, who will be compensated by the unit membership directly. Funds for this compensation will be derived from a $1 fee assessed from each official per assignment.

"I'm excited about the potential of this concept," notes Bill Clark, CIF-SS Administrator in charge of officiating. "It will give the officials in each sport an opportunity to be much more involved in the assigning process, has the potential to increase the quality of officiating and will provide financial stability for our member schools."

The concept has received endorsements from both the CIF-SS Executive Committee and the CIF-SS Council, representing each of the organization's 62 leagues. Additionally, Orange County Principals and presidents of the officials' associations have shown support for the program.

"I believe this is a positive step in regards to clarifying a problem with official assignments in Orange County," pointed out Jim DeLong, Principal of Garden Grove High School, who chaired a meeting of Orange County Principals which has enthusiastically approved of the concept. "Having the association more directly involved in the assignment process should help to alleviate problems with no-shows and improve the quality of our athletic officiating overall."

Al Hackney, a long-time and highly respected Orange County basketball official, also has a positive view of the new system. "Anything new should be approached with a positive attitude," said Hackney. "I like the fact that this new system will allow the individual official an opportunity to control his or her destiny in the profession."

ORANGE COUNTY LIAISON POSITION NOW OPEN

ASSIGNER DAROL ROUNDY TO RETIRE

After 30 years of dedicated service to the California Interscholastic Federation Southern Section, Orange County Assignment Coordinator Darol Roundy has announced his retirement, effective July 1.

Roundy, 65, began his long-time association with the CIF-SS in September of 1957. At the time, Commissioner of Athletics Ken Fagans was seeking an assistant to handle a big task: the coordination and assignment of officials for approximately 172 member schools. Roundy assumed the position that fall and became responsible for assignments in all sports at all levels for CIF-SS schools in the metropolitan Los Angeles, South Bay, San Fernando Valley and Citrus Belt (Covina) areas.

Roundy remained a member of the CIF-SS Office staff until his semi-retirement in 1978, although he stayed on as assignment coordinator for the Long Beach-Whittier area. At the beginning of the 1985-86 school year, he took on the Orange County area as well, adding an additional 79 schools to his list of 126 for a total of 205. During the current year, Roundy has serviced the Orange County area exclusively.

In looking back on his CIF-SS career, Roundy's only wish is that he could have recruited a greater number of officials to work CIF-SS athletic contests.

"There have been many pluses and minuses over the years," said Roundy, "But the friends I have made and the people I have worked with in the (CIF-SS) office, all of the sports officials' associations, athletic directors and principals will be a plus forever."

"I leave with one regret," added Roundy. "That I never was able to have 300 officials in all sports."

During his 30-year tenure, Roundy worked with four CIS-SS Commissioners, including Fagans, Tom Byrnes, Ray Plutko, and Stan Thomas. He has seen the organization more than double in size.

"The CIS Southern Section is truly proud of Darol's many years of dedicated service," noted Commissioner Thomas. "We thank him for his many hours spent on behalf of the organization and wish him well in his retirement."
