COMMISSIONER'S CORNER

League Constitutions, League Responsibilities, and the Playoffs

T. E. BYRNES

Each year during the CIF, Southern Section Playoffs, the office is confronted by some leagues with a situation where there is no provision within the league constitution for specifying the priority of playoff representatives. It is absolutely necessary that leagues develop a formula or method within their constitution or by-laws which will designate priorities for playoff consideration.

(Under present regulations only the first two representatives are admitted from each league to the playoffs, except in the sports of football and basketball, so the necessity of a priority beyond the first two would be in these sports only.)

Sometimes in the past extremely embarrassing incidents involving conflicts between member schools in the league have resulted because of no specific guidelines on such priorities. These disputes have in some cases involved parents and the media. As professionals, and in order to maintain control of our programs, it is a necessity to clean up any potential misunderstandings within league constitutions regarding such matters.

I would like to emphasize here that without these specific guidelines, administrators, athletic directors and coaches open their programs to criticism. It is almost impossible to develop a guideline after the fact, which would be satisfactory to the party who might not be selected at a higher priority.

For example, let's assume that two schools are tied for first place and only one can be rated number one representative. If the consideration is the school that would be first, have the best record, one nominee might be put forth. On the other hand, if the measuring stick was the school that beat the other school, the other might be selected.

THE BEAUTY OF SPORT

By Benjamin Lowe

(National Federation Press Service) . . .

Looking for a sports book that has a unique and artistic approach to one of the most widely acclaimed areas of interest in the world today? If so, then The Beauty of Sport is for you. The book is directed away from conventional sports books which focus upon competition, associated with winning and losing. On the contrary, emphasis is placed upon the aesthetics of human movement directly related to sport.

The beauty of sport provides an intensified look at athletic programs. All types of motions of athletes, no matter how complex or simple, are analyzed. Dr. Benjamin Lowe suggests that athletic programs are creations of beauty involving the athlete, competition, and almost all elements that constitutes the make up of the contest.

The book suggests that the beauty of our own athletic performance is stated in how well we achieve, whereas the beauty ascribed to others is defined by how well we might hope to achieve. The degree of appreciation to which sport is recognized is measured through the knowledge one has for the sport taking into account physical involvement and total experience.

Reading this book will serve the most investigative reader and stimulate even the most informed reader. The Beauty of Sport will be most beneficial to athletic directors if read prior to fall sporting events. Athletic directors should take time to evaluate the subject of their profession, namely sports, weighing all aspects of its aesthetic qualities.

Dr. Lowe used documentary evidence intermixed with newborn ideas, examples, and art objects. His purpose was initiated by the desire to unveil his wealth of knowledge about the beauty of sport. He also intended the book to be a supply source for points and positions and not a rule book open for attack through the ideas presented.

Nehemiah, Scotch - Plains - Fanwood High School, Scotch Plains, New Jersey, dropped the old 120-yard high hurdle time from :13.2 to :12.9.

Two national indoor records were established. Jesse Williams, Princess Ann High School, Virginia, sprinted the 60-yard dash in :6.0, one-tenth of a second faster than had been run. WHAT'S HAPPENIN' IN THE OTHER 49 STATES

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in a series of monthly articles covering items of interest from throughout California and other State Associations in their administration of high school athletics.)

ITEM: National Federation Headquarters To Move . . .

COMMENT: KANSAS CITY, MISSOURI will become the new home for the headquarters building of the National Federation of State High School Associations The move from the current location in Elgin, Illinois to the area of Kansas City International Airport is expected to be completed by mid-1979.

CAUSE OF THE MOVE is the National Federation's plan to print virtually all of the $2\frac{1}{2}$ million publications which it publishes each year and most of which are presently sub-contracted. The National Federation will realize huge savings which will be passed on to its member associations and individual schools.

KANSAS CITY was selected over other cities in the central United States after it was determined that building expansion in the greater Chicago area would be more costly in terms of construction and operations than relocating and rebuilding. The National Federation owns a beautiful six-year old building on three acres 30 miles west of Chicago's O'Hare Airport. Plans are to erect a building more than double the size of the Elgin building on four acres adjacent to Kansas City International Airport which will provide easier access to the more than twenty National Federation committees which meet at the headquarters office each year.

THE HEADQUARTERS OFFICE coordinates the efforts of the National Federation's member high school association in each state. This includes legal services, special programs for high school athletic directors, rules publications in twelve sports, and audio-visual aids in seven sports.

THE MOVE TO LARGER FACILITIES will permit the National Federation headquarters staff to provide the additional services which are being requested by the National Federation membership, such as a national insurance program for state association officers and members of the National Interscholastic Athletic Administrators Association, and expanded programs in music and discussion and debate.

ITEM: Three Year Eligibility Rule Upheld Twice . . .

COMMENT: A rule of the Florida High School Activities Association, which limits each student to three consecutive years of athletic eligibility from the time the student enters the tenth grade, has been upheld by Florida courts in two separate actions.

In one case (Rutledge v. FHSAA), the student repeated the eleventh grade and wanted to play interscholastic basketball for a fourth consecutive year when he finally reached the twelfth grade.

In the other case (Cleare v. Green), the student played basketball on his high school team in the Bahamas during his tenth grade year, then quit school to work full time for a year, then transferred to Miami Edison High School where he sat out a year to fulfill the one-year residency requirement prior to playing. When he entered twelfth grade, he was ineligible to play interscholastic basketball because it had been four years since he entered the tenth grade.

In both cases, temporary injunctions were denied.

ITEM: New officials assigner in L.A. City Section.

COMMENT: Dale Williams, a former teacher and counselor at Olive Vista Junior High School in Sylmar, has joined the staff of the Los Angeles Unified School district Interscholastic Athletics Office to assume the responsibility for assigning officials to athletic events. Mr. Williams is an experienced baseball, football, and basketball official who joins two other experienced officials in the Los Angeles district office. CIF-Los Angeles Section Secretary, Jim Cheffers, is a football referee and umpire, and assistant Lee Joseph is a football back judge and head linesman. All work football in the PAC-8.

GIRLS CHALLENGE NATIONAL RECORDS

1:06.11 performance, slightly one second faster than the old record of
1:07.582.

Boys swimmers turned in four national interscholastic record-setting performances at the California Interscholastic Federation-Southern Section Class AAAA championships held at East Los Angeles College last April.

Mission Viejo high school made its name known in national record circles as the school identified with three national records. Brian Goodell, captured both the 200-freestyle and 500-yard freestyle records with times of 1:37.15 and 4:20.81 respectively. Teammate Jesse Vassallo set the new national best in the 200-yard individual medley with 1:53.03 clocking.

Greg Winchell of Wilson High School in Los Angeles, lowered the breaststroke record of :57.7 to :57.68 to complete the list of new recordholders.

The assault on the national interscholastic swimming records in recent years is revealed most clearly by the fact that the oldest boys high school record is a 1967 mark by Mark Spitz in the 100-yard butterfly (:49.1) and the oldest girls high school record was set as recently as two years ago. That was the 1:51.193 performance of the Pine Crest School of Fort Lauderdale, Florida in the 200-yard medley relay on February 1, 1973.

The swimming and diving rule committee determines the competitive rules and meet standards by which interscholastic swimming and diving competition is conducted. National Federation rules apply to over 210,000 boy and girl swimming and diving athletes. National records may only be established during competition which is in compliance with all National Federation rules.
