COMMISSIONER'S CORNER

RELY ON JUST YOUR REFLEXES

At times, it's necessary to get one's attention.

We've all faced that dilemma at one time or another, even in the role as an athletic administrator with respect to the communities we serve.

However, if we play our cards right, they'll really stand up and take notice this time.

It's a united front, the likes of never before seen in these parts — a two-week spearhead under the code name of "FOCUS ON HIGH SCHOOL ACTIVITIES."

The invitations have all been mailed for the gala October 18-30 affair and we expect to see you right there, front row and center.

But why the big party?

Never has the need been so great for creating a unified public awareness of the activity programs being fostered on our high school campuses.

The continued strain on the public educational dollar is indeed a stimulus, but it should hardly be the catalyst for our accountability.

Over the years, we've waved our banner as to the positive values and atmosphere spawned by our activity programs. However, has our approach been adequate?

Few will disagree our response, all too often, has been predicated on a "knee-jerk reaction" basis.

Cutbacks in funding, programs, personnel and even the elimination of select sports have managed to stimulate our reflexes.

Maybe, just maybe, we haven't done that good of a job in the area of public relations.

Documented research reveals that students who participate in activity programs drop out of school less frequently, have better attendance, fewer discipline referrals, earn higher grades and are more likely to succeed in later life. This is a must for your daily vocabulary.

Simply stated, it's time we speak out . . . and on a regular basis.

You have the perfect opportunity for some of this undivided attention during the "FOCUS ON HIGH SCHOOL ACTIVITIES" program. Is your blueprint ready for action?

CORPORATE SUPPORT CONTINUES

HIS NAME IS CHARLIE MR. "DR. PEPPER"

Over the past five years a "Dr. Pepper" logo has appeared in the corner of all Southern Section award certificates. This small but meaningful tribute is the CIF Southern Section's way of thanking the soft drink bottling company for its generosity in subsidizing our awards program.

The corporate sponsorship agreement between the Southern Section and the Dr. Pepper Bottling Company involves a $30,00 contribution which is applied toward certificates and championship trophies and patches.

Since its inception in 1977 the Dr. Pepper Sports Foundation has broadened its involvement in high school athletics considerably, and much of the credit for this expansion is due to the company's representative, Mr. Charlie Seaver.

While Seaver's official title is Director of Vending Operations, he is best known in prep circles as the liaison between the CIF-SS and the Dr. Pepper Company. It is the congenial "Charlie" who is called upon when soft drinks are needed for press luncheons and playoff events or T-shirts to be given by the schools as door prizes at tournaments.

In his six years with the company, Seaver has served as the official Dr. Pepper representative at numerous CIF-SS championship events, assisting with awards presentations and attending press conferences and symposiums. He has been available to member schools and coaches' associations for their numerous activities and clinics.

The scope of Dr. Pepper's philanthropic endeavors encompasses sponsorship of three major sports clinics, co-sponsorship of various athletic directors' association meetings and active involvement in Orange and Tri-Counties athlete of the year awards in which scholarship awards of $500 and trophies are presented to the recipients.

In this day of budget consideration in schools and industry, the students, administrators and indeed everyone involved in CIF Southern Section athletics have ample to be grateful for as far as Charlie Seaver and the Dr. Pepper Bottling Company are concerned.

PLAYOFF PAIRING FORMAT

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is the first in a series of feature articles by Commissioner Ray Plutko, dealing with administrative procedures and areas of eligibility by the CIF Southern Section Office. This month's feature centers on the playoff pairings.

"How in the world did I ever draw them for the opening round of the playoffs?"

With that introduction, let's take an in-depth look at the protocol utilized by the CIF Southern Section Office in the development of post-season playoff pairings.

Despite some thoughts to the contrary, there is a procedure to this madness. However, it is necessary to grasp an understanding of the task and the conditions in which it takes place.

Initially, administrators and coaches should be aware there are three peak periods in which pairings are formulated — November, February and May — with the CIF-SS Office handling no less than five different sports at any one time and as high as nine at one juncture.

However, the overall task becomes even more complicated when developing pairings for a sport which fields both Boys' and Girls' teams at the same time, i.e., basketball, soccer, baseball/softball.

Possibly, the following summary statement places the task in perspective

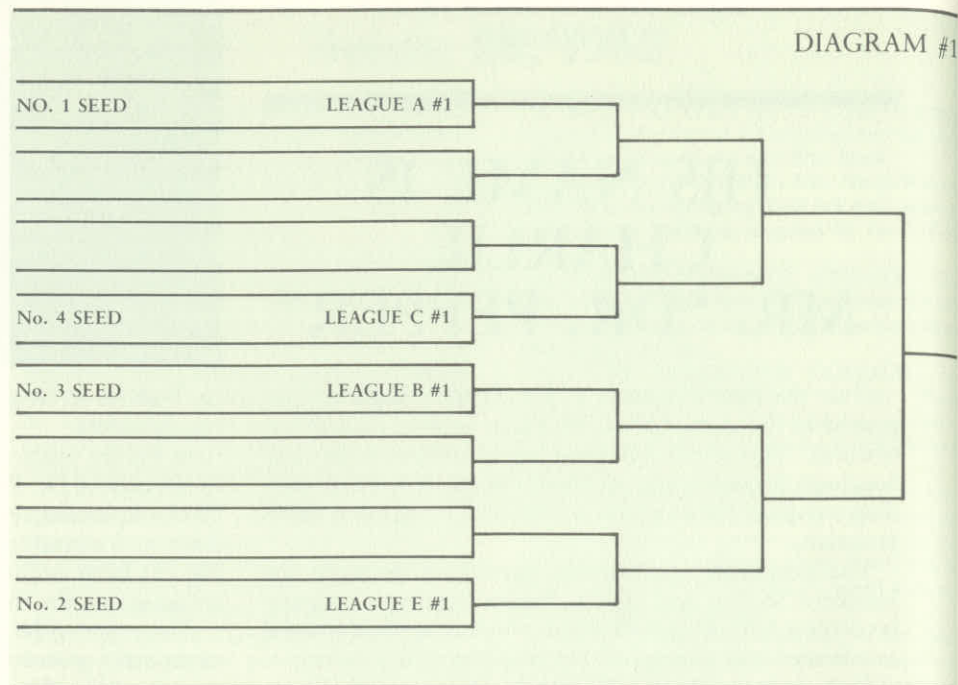

... this fall there will be 512 opening-round playoff pairings required, all to be formulated in the span of two 24-hour periods!

How then, does the CIF-SS Office meet this challenge?

SEEDS — The initial step is to designate four teams (maximum) as seeds, with No. 1 and 4 placed in the top bracket and No. 2 and 3 in the bottom bracket (see Diagram 1). An exception to this procedure would be if seeds in the same half of the bracket are from the same league. If this occurs, and using the example of the top half of the bracket, No. 4 would then become the No. 3 seed and No. 3 would fill the No. 4 position to separate the league representation.

Is it possible to designate more than four seeds?

The task would be virtually impossible on two counts. Attempting to delineate which team is the No. 7 seed, as opposed to No. 8 or No. 12 rather than No. 13 would result in 25 different answers by 25 different people. Additionally, an attempt at a "true seed" would be in opposition to the CIF-SS Constitution and By-Laws, which specify a league's designated No. 1 entry shall meet a No. 3 entry and a No. 2 shall meet another No. 2 where the draw provides for same in the opening round.

FILLING THE DRAW — The next step is to fill the bracket draw and a simple guideline provides the ground-rules for same. Assuming for the moment the top four seeds are all No. 1 teams, the procedure calls for the No. 2 teams from each of these leagues to be placed in the opposite half of the bracket (see Diagram 2).

Consider there are five leagues assigned to this particular bracket, it now becomes necessary to place the only league not represented thus far, League D. The No. 1 designee is placed in either half of the bracket, with League D #2 in the opposite half (see Diagram 3).

The final step is to place the No. 3 teams from each of the respective leagues in the open slots, attempting to place each in one of the remaining "quarters" of the bracket where the league is not represented. This process eliminates the aspect of schools from the same league meeting in the second round of competition.

An exception to this procedure occurs where geography does not permit wide placement. The Office then follows the directive of the CIF Southern Section Council from its meeting of March 13, 1980, which directs schools be placed in the same half and if necessary, quarter of the bracket to curtail excessive travel.

Another factor utilized by the Office when formulating initial pairings is to review the playoff bracket for the previous years in an effort not to match identical teams which may have been paired the previous year or two years back. This would not preclude two leagues being matched in consecutive years, but with two different representative schools.

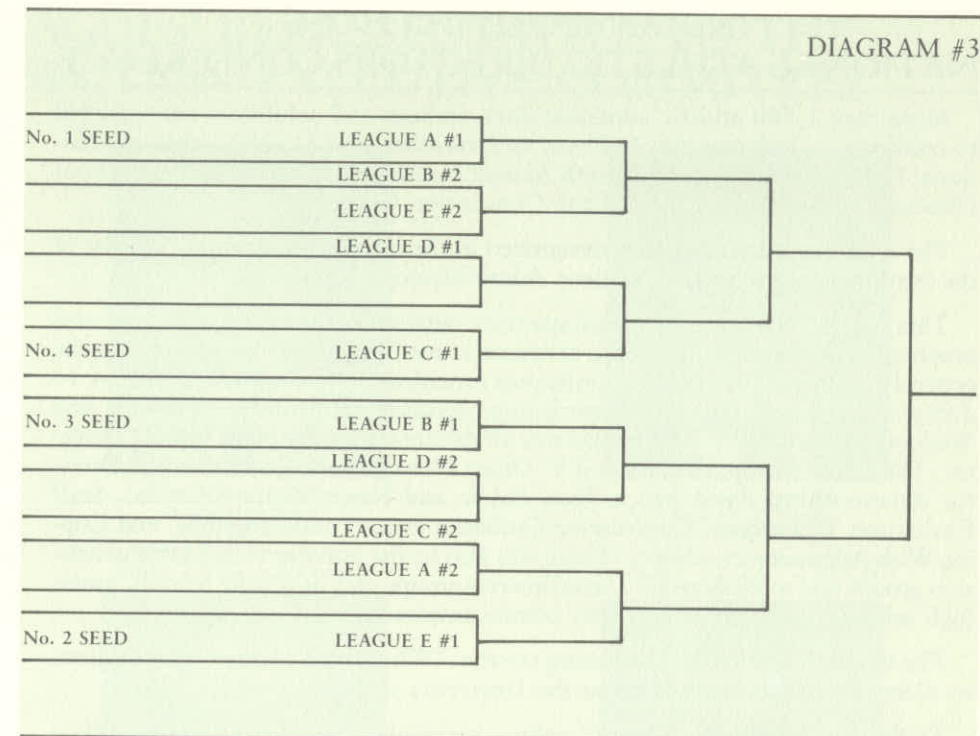

Is it true they use a two-headed coin?

No two-headed coins nor wooden nickels are part of the playoff procedures. In fact, notice is given in all playoff bulletins that coin flips, where necessary, are conducted in public by the Commissioner or his designated administrator in the CIF-SS Lobby at 8 a.m. the morning following the contest. It should be noted all necessary coin flips are conducted, even though one or both teams involved are not present due to travel distance, etc. in order that they might be verified by other administrators and/or coaches present.

With respect to the opening round, coin flips, where necessary, are conducted in the CIF-SS Office by a principal from a member school who is not involved in the playoffs. This is necessary in that the draw must be typed with the appropriate information, duplicated and processed for telephone calls which follow a few hours later.

One major accomplishment of the Southern Section office over the last four years has been the adoption of the "wild card contest" to remove all subjectivity by way of a Selection Committee. This is accomplished in all sports with the exception of football. Wild card contests are not feasible in football in that it would create two games in a one week span and three within an eight-day period.

For all sports other than football, the wild card game matches third place designees of leagues geographically, which are then placed into a hat for a blind draw. The reasoning behind the geographical match is to prevent undue travel as a blind draw could result in Santa Maria playing Riverside on Wednesday evening and the winner having to return two days later with another possible lengthy road contest.

Once the matchups are placed in the hat for the blind draw, a principal from a member school conducts the draw and verifies same by signing the back of each entry card for a permanent record.

It should also be noted CIF-SS Rule 2916 specifies wild card teams and free lance teams competing in the playoffs receive a third team designation for purposes of determining home and away status.

Is there an alternative?

The CIF Southern Section Office has communicated with other State Associations as to their method of determining playoff pairings and these have been reviewed with the Executive Committee. However, the Committee believes the present procedure is not only the most sound, but one which attempts to match schools in an effort to have the top two seeds meet in the championship contest.

But, it would be remiss not to mention alternatives:

(1) Complete Blind Draw — This would be one objective alternative, but the results could be disastrous. Such a procedure could result in two first place teams meeting in the opening round; third place finishers meeting in the opening round; the No. 1 and 2 seeds meeting in the opening round; and/or extreme travel resulting by way of a blind draw pairing which would be perpetuated in each ensuing round.

(2) Pre-Determined Bracket Sheet — This alternative is utilized by some states whereby a rotation system is developed and the bracket is published September 1st of each year. It specifies that the No. 1 entry from League A will play the No. 3 entry from League C, etc. This method, although objective in nature, could result in the top seeds meeting in the second round or for that matter, the top four seeds being placed in the same quarter of the bracket.

(3) Combination — A third alternative might involve a combination of the two above, whereby the seeds are determined and a blind draw is conducted to complete the bracket. This could result in teams from the same league meeting in the opening round and/or being placed in the same quarter of the bracket.

However, it should also be pointed out that once the opening round is conducted, there are few who can predict the exploits of youngsters in the 15-18 age bracket and just two or three "upsets" can result in a completely different playoff picture.

Needless to say, the perfect solution would be welcomed by all. But if one objectively studies the present system being utilized and as reviewed with the CIF-SS Executive Committee, there is little doubt the procedure is one which is defined to reflect the most accurate bracket possible, while at the same time, protecting member schools in terms of financial burden.

In one respect, it's somewhat of a sad commentary that a specified block of time must be set aside to make our constituency aware of our assets.

We've often referred to it as "The Other Half of Education," but if we look a little closer, it's a very integral half.

I would urge you speak a little louder and a little longer — you have a great story to tell.
