PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

A Committee That Does Something

By Dr. Ken Gunn, President
CIF-SS Executive Committee

All of us in education are fortunate! First, we get to work with students, the vast majority of whom value education and their schools. Secondly, we work side by side with some of the finest professionals in any field, teachers, coaches and administrators. Finally, on occasion, we get the opportunity to meet and work with exceptional people from the other walks of life who also value education and athletics. The common bond in these associations is "the kids." Thanks to the efforts and the vision of our commissioner, Dean Crowley, we are in the midst of a unique experience. This experience is called the CIF-SS Human Relations Committee. I know what you are thinking, "Just what education in general and CIF, in particular, needs -- ANOTHER COMMITTEE." This one truly is different.

All of us remember the incident which occurred this past football season. A football official was hit by a player in one of our Southern Section games and we were instantly the focus of national media attention. As a result of that incident and the extensive aftermath, Dean was contacted by some remarkable people. Lee Sampson, Harris Williams, Rev. Lloyd Wilkins and Dr. Fred Kennedy are all leaders in the Compton community. They wanted to become involved. More specifically, they wanted to address the racial incidents and other form of unsportsmanlike conduct that appear to be rapidly increasing in schools and in athletics. Together, these five gentlemen, Dean, Lee, Harris, Rev. Wilkins and Dr. Kennedy, formed the Human Relations Committee. The committee is composed of over thirty men and women from a variety of professions and backgrounds. An NFL Official, a small college and NBA All-Star, a senior mediator from the Department of Justice, a prominent member of the Los Angeles County Commission of Human Relations, the parent of an excellent local athlete, District and School Administrators, Athletic Directors, CIF Office Administrators, and a number of community members who care deeply about these issues, bring their numerous experiences and expertise to the group. Dr. Kennedy, a former Assistant Superintendent, was the unanimous choice to chair the committee and it is off and running. Sub committees are working on sensitivity training programs, codes of conduct for players, coaches and fans, and

ARCO am/pm & HERFF JONES SUPPORT CIF ACTIVITIES & EVENTS

Sports are in at ARCO's am/pm mini-markets. As fans across the state geared up to watch all the college basketball action on TV last month, CIF title sponsor ARCO and its am/pm mini-markets launched an exciting basketball-themed promotion aimed at CIF students. With the "Slam Dunk" special, CIF students and other am/pm customers who bought a 99¢ Pepsi fountain drink at am/pm received a free 42 oz. sports bottle shaped like a basketball. The "Slam Dunk" special began March 5. "We couldn't have asked for a better time to create a partnership with Pepsi and am/pm," said CIF Marketing Director Bob Seagren. "The basketball-shaped sports bottles were perfect for the month of March and students who purchased a Pepsi fountain drink helped the CIF build a strong and lasting relationship with ARCO and its am/pm mini-markets."

Not to be outdone, this spring ARCO am/pm and the CIF plan to launch a "Grand Slam" baseball-themed promotion using a baseball-shaped 44 oz. sports bottle. CIF students and other am/pm customers who buy a "to be announced" sports drink will receive the baseball bottle FREE. Plus, these sports bottles can be refilled at any participating am/pm for a special low price. "Our suppliers have been very helpful in supporting our sponsorship of the CIF," said ARCO am/pm representative Jim Scourkes. "High school students are very important to us and our support of the CIF helps keep California's high school athletic programs funded."

In addition to the "Slam Dunk" and "Grand Slam" specials, ARCO am/pm are still running the special CIF ARCO am/pm sports bottle fund-raising program. The CIF ARCO am/pm sports bottle program provides schools with CIF ARCO am/pm sports bottles filled with over $100 worth of savings certificates on select Wilson Sporting Goods. Schools can sell the bottles for profit. Schools/booster groups that sell the sports bottles at a suggested price of $3 to $10 can raise close to $500 on just one 50 bottle minimum order. Schools and booster groups can order as many bottles as they wish in increments of 50.

To order CIF ARCO am/pm fund-raising program sports bottles, call (800) 558-2518. For further information on special in-store CIF promotions or ARCO am/pm's sponsorship of the CIF, please contact the CIF Marketing Department at (800) 652-4016.

Herff Jones, the largest manufacturer of championship rings in the State, is the "Official Awards Company of the CIF." Specializing in scholastic products for all high schools (class rings, announcements, caps and gowns), Herff Jones will manufacture all of the CIF plaques and medals.

"Recognition, Education and Motivation are the goals of Herff Jones," said Steve Forell, Area Manager of Herff Jones. "Our association with the CIF provides an avenue to support these goals. Our medals, plaques and championship rings create a sense of pride for the participants in CIF sports that they will carry with them all their lives. Our representatives feel a great deal of pride in being a part of the achievement of these student/athletes. We look forward to many years of sharing those memories through our support of student/athletes in the CIF," said Forell.

JESSOP NAMED SAN DIEGO SECTION COMMISSIONER

Jan Jessop, Assistant Commissioner of the CIF San Diego Section since 1977, has been named Commissioner of the section. Jessop, only the third Commissioner and first woman Commissioner of that section, replaces Kendall Webb who retires at the end of the school year.

"I am pleased, honored, and most appreciative that the San Diego Section Board of Managers has expressed confidence in my ability to assume this position," said Jessop upon her appointment.

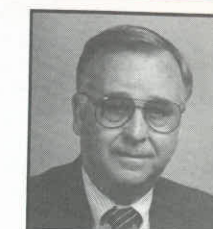

Jessop now takes over as top administrator for the San Diego County's 81 high schools and over 100,000 students. Formerly, she was responsible for writing the regulations and guidelines for girls athletic programs and helping Webb coordinate all high school athletic activities. Additionally, she had been responsible preparing and editing the section's record book and directory, coordinating corporate sponsorships and administering of playoff events.

COMMISSIONER'S CORNER

Coaching is the Key

By Dean Crowley
Commissioner of Athletics

There is a belief that discipline, respect, courage, and teamwork are some of the qualities that are learned through sports. The fact is, this does not always ring true. Although these traits are achievable through sport, they are not inherent. Coaches hold the key to student-athletes learning these life lessons.

The Amateur Athletic Foundation (AAF), an organization created to manage Southern California's endowment from the 1984 Olympic Games, has held coaching clinics in cross country, track and field, and soccer for the past 6 years. Volleyball coaches clinics are soon to be a reality. The purpose of these clinics according to Skip Stolley, AAF/CIF Coaching Program Coordinator, is to enhance the expertise of CIF coaches, in turn enhancing the athletic experience of the hundreds of Southern Section athletes they encounter.

The Southern Section has always been fortunate enough to have some of the finest coaches in the country. However, even these coaches sometimes have to take a step back and refocus on the goal at hand - the personal and physical development of a young person.

According to a 1990 survey, the quality of coaching is the most important factor on whether or not sports becomes a positive experience for the young athlete. We must encourage our coaches to focus on winning, rather than be obsessed by it. They should make it a priority, but not the top priority. After all, good coaching should not be measured by a won-loss record, but rather whether he or she has affected a young life in a positive manner.

Attending an AAF coaching clinic can give coaches the tools to go out into the field and make high school athletics a rewarding experience for the students. Not only do the AAF/CIF clinics teach the coach the proper philosophy of coaching, they have enlisted some of the top coaches in the particular sport to share the cutting edge in coaching techniques.

This past year, the CIF Southern Section encountered many incidents in which coaches have failed their athletes. They See COMMISSIONERS CORNER page 19.

SPONSORS HELP KEEP DUES DOWN

The betterment of interscholastic athletics is the foundation on which the CIF Southern Section has built its relationships with the Amateur Athletic Foundation, Gatorade and Pacific Bell Smart Yellow Pages. These three organizations continue to support the many activities of the CIF Southern Section as key members of the section's "Corporate Team" of sponsors.

"What a pleasure it is to work with these three fine organizations," said Dean Crowley, CIF-SS Commissioner of Athletics. "These companies have consistently shown a willingness to provide member schools, administrative staffs and most importantly, the student/athletes quality products and superior service. I salute them for their efforts and look forward to continuing our mutually beneficial relationship for many years to come."

The Amateur Athletic Foundation is the organization created to manage Southern California's endowment from the Olympic Games. Located in the historic Britt House since 1985, the AAF has committed more than $60 million to create, support and expand existing youth sports programs. To date, hundreds of thousands of boys and girls and more than 650 youth sports organizations throughout Southern California have benefited from their endowment.

The AAF benefits the CIF-SS directly by providing the printed manuals and developing the curriculum for the coaches clinics at regional sites across California. In fact, the AAF has become a national model due to the relationship with the CIF-SS. Skip Stolley, Program Officer with the AAF, says "This program enhances the expertise of the coaches, and this is important because the coaches have a direct impact on the student/athletes." According to Skip, there are tangible results that show a significant increase in participation of student/athletes and a dramatic increase in the depth of their performance. The results also show a decrease in the loss of coaches.

To date, the AAF is involved in three sports which include soccer, track & field and cross country. Presently, they are developing a curriculum for boys and girls volleyball with the clinics to start in January or February 1998. Jim McLaughlin, Head Volleyball Coach at USC, is heading this program.

Gatorade has been the "Official Thirst Quencher/Sport Beverage of the CIF Southern Section" for over 13 years. By providing team coolers, product mix and cups to the CIF-SS finalists, Gatorade has played an important role in supporting the Southern Section athletes.

"We at Gatorade are proud of our long association with the CIF-SS," says Jeff Price, Sports Marketing Manager for the Quaker Oats Company, maker of Gatorade Thirst Quencher. "Sports represent an important part of the high school experience and the CIF-SS gives student/athletes a chance to participate in 23 sports throughout their academic years. Gatorade's commitment will hopefully help many more young men and women to live their life as a sport with a will to play hard and to play fair."

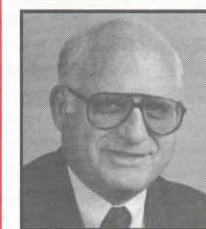

Pacific Bell Smart Yellow Pages is designated as the "Official Yellow Pages of the CIF-SS." Giving back to the community and establishing a stronger presence locally were their main reasons for becoming involved with the CIF-SS. "CIF-SS has done a tremendous job for Pacific Bell Directory in Southern California," said Dennis Robinson, Strategic Planning Manager for Pacific Bell Smart Yellow Pages. "Supporting high school athletics has proven to be a great way to create local affinity and give something back to the community. High school athletes will see that we're involved now and will appreciate our product later on."

Proudly displayed in the front lobby of their local Anaheim office are the dozen of letters that are received from CIF-SS athletic administrators and coaches thanking Pacific Bell for their support.

Amateur Athletic Foundation, Gatorade, and Pacific Bell Smart Yellow Pages join Wilson, TLC Sportswear, Daniel Freeman Hospitals and Conlin Bros. as sponsors of the CIF-SS. We thank you for your support of high school athletics in Southern California.

RULE REVIEW

By Bill Clark
CIF-SS Assistant Commissioner

Open
Enrollment
Stays the Same, For Now

There has been plenty of discussion regarding open enrollment since the State CIF proposed implementation for an open enrollment transfer deadline of May 15 of the school year preceding the transfer.

However, the State CIF has postponed implementation in favor of the current system for the 1996-97 school year. With a scheduled start date of June 1, it made more sense to put this off until next year. What it means to you, our administrators, is that you can use the same process and the same forms for next year's open enrollment transfers.

According to the proposed system for open enrollment for the 1997-98 school year, only schools/districts which takes non-athletic, non-disciplinary transfers on a completely random basis will be eligible for open enrollment and that applications must be filed before the May 15 deadline. This precludes most private and parochial schools, which may hold transfers to their own admissions requirements.

In the meantime, several options are being considered for open enrollment, including one which allows a student athlete one unrestricted transfer in his or her career. Under current rules, for a student to be residentially eligible under open enrollment, the transfer must not be a result of disciplinary action, there was no consideration given to athletics when considering the transfer, the transfer was completed during the first 15 days of the new school year, the transfer is the student's first open enrollment transfer, and the student falls under the open enrollment policy of the receiving school's board. Under those provisions, over 600 applications have been processed by the Southern Section office this year.

Details on the new process will be available at a later date. For now, open enrollment will remain status quo and open enrollment transfers will be allowed under the current stipulations listed above. Copies of the open enrollment Form 222 will be included in your school's fall packet.

SOUTHERN SECTION TEAMS CLAIM FIVE STATE BASKETBALL CROWNS

Eight CIF Southern Section member schools competed for state titles in the CIF ARCO am/pm State Basketball Championships held at the ARCO Arena in Sacramento March 1 and 2. Only five came away with wins.

In the Division I girls final, Mater Dei defeated Archbishop Mitty of San Jose 59-48 to earn the first girls basketball state title in the school's storied basketball history. Rhonda Gondringer scored 20 points to lead the Lady Monarchs on a 32-4 run in the first half. Gondringer also picked up 8 rebounds, while teammates Melody Peterson and Lori Hurlbut added 13 points apiece.

The Division II championship was a rematch of the 1995 final, as Woodbridge faced El Camino of Sacramento. The Lady Warriors were able to duplicate the '95 result with a 51-44 victory over the Eagles. Erin Stovall led the Warriors with 21 points and Melanie Pearson added 16.

Bishop Montgomery also took home a girls state basketball championship for the first time this past weekend as the Knights upended Bear River of Grass Valley, 46-42, for the Division III crown. Jamilah Jones and Danielle Graham each scored 11 points and Tashara Carter added 8 in the victory.

The Dominguez Dons proved that their No. 2 national ranking was well-deserved by pulling away from Northgate of Walnut Creek and winning, 63-49 in the Division II title game. Jason Thomas scored a game-high 28 points and James Jones picked up 11 rebounds for Dominguez as they picked up their first state championship.

The Division III crown was snatched, along with a combined 27 rebounds, by twin towers Jason and Jarron Collins for the Wolverines of Harvard-Westlake. Harvard-Westlake also got 31 points from Jason and Jarron in their 62-49 triumph over Grant of Sacramento. This victory also marked the first state basketball title for the Wolverines.

Other Southern Section schools were in action at the state finals with Valley Christian/Cerritos falling to Campolindo of Moraga 77-60 in the Division IV girls title game, Mission Prep losing to Sacred Heart Prep of Atherton, 62-52, in the Division V girls final, and Montclair Prep was defeated by St. Elizabeth of Oakland 72-67 in the Division V Boys Championship.

TRASH TALKING CANNOT BE TOLERATED

Whatever happened to good old-fashioned sportsmanship in interscholastic athletics? Pressure-packed contests and the desire to win have eroded the basic values competition can teach and consequently produced a style of behavior which ignores good sportsmanship altogether in too many cases.

The frequent taunting and baiting most often called "trash talking" prevents the competition from being played in a sportsmanlike atmosphere, which is a basic requirement at the high school level. Coaches and administrators must demand good sportsmanship by players, and they must be models for the players. Coaches must insist that such "trash-talking" behavior cannot and will not be tolerated.

The No. 1 priority in interscholastic athletics is good conduct and good sportsmanship. When coaches and officials allow "trash talking" to take place in interscholastic contest, sportsmanship takes a back seat. Included in taunting and baiting is players demonstrating when fouls, penalties or violations are called by officials.

Captains should be informed by the game officials that once the game starts, there should be no interchange between players that is taunting or baiting in nature. Any demonstration of showing up an official or an opponent will be penalized. If a player makes a good play and then is in the face of the opponent, pointing, hollering or chesting up, it must be penalized.

Unfortunately, there are ever-increasing types of unacceptable behavior that are tolerated as being "part of the game." The use of ridiculing motions, pointing fingers are ways in which opponents are taunted. The body language after a great play by a competition is often intended to either embarrass or intimidate the opponent. Taunting and baiting often incites opposing players, coaches and fans to react in an unsportsmanlike manner.

Too often, officials allow "trash talking" to occur and do not penalize. Too often, officials will repeatedly warn players to stop verbal exchanges, but they never penalize. Official must stress in their pregame discussions with the coaches and captains that teach. Interscholastic competition provides countless opportunities for players to show good sportsmanship as it relates to dealing with an opponent. Why have we allowed this competition to become a place where the very worst acts of disrespect toward an opponent are allowed?

While the displays of poor sportsmanship through taunting and baiting seem to be increasing at the high school level, we may point our fingers at the colleges and professionals for contributing to the problem. We cannot, however, place the responsibility on someone else. "Trash talking" simply cannot be tolerated as part of an educational program and educational experience. Officials must begin to strictly enforce the rules which prohibit such unsportsmanlike conduct. If everyone involved in interscholastic athletics does their job, these undesirable acts will no longer be part of high school competition.

From the time a youngster first gets involved in athletic contests, whether it is in school, the YMCA, Parks and Recreation Department, Little League, or boys and girls clubs, the word "sportsmanship" becomes an often-repeated term. As young men and women mature in years and ability to participate in sports activities, the challenges to portray good sportsmanship become even greater. As Knute Rockne reportedly said, "One man practicing good sportsmanship is far better than fifty others preaching it." In interscholastic athletics winning is for today, but sportsmanship and ethics are for a lifetime.

GIRLS WATER POLO IS THE NEWEST CIF-SS SPORT

After years of lobbying, the sport of girls water polo was the latest addition to the list of CIF Southern Section approved sports. The proposal, brought forth by the Sunset League, was approved by the Southern Section Council at the March 7 meeting.

Girls water polo was approved as a winter sport and will begin competition in the 1996-97 school year. The Southern Section joins the San Diego and North Coast Section, which already has girls water polo as an approved sport. The winter season of sport was chosen to maximize the availability of coaches, officials and the use of pool time. Also, the winter season currently has soccer and basketball as the only girls sports. The fall has four girls sports and the spring has five sports available to girls.

fastest growing sports, particularly with girls. It is one of the fastest rising sports with regard to the number of collegiate scholarships being awarded.

However, girls have been competing on water polo teams for many years. A survey of Southern Section member schools indicated that at least 59 schools already fielded girls water polo teams and many girls have competed on student teams.

With the addition of the girls team, girls will no longer be allowed to compete on the boys team, with the exception of those currently playing on their school's student team. If a school does not field girls water polo, girls would be allowed to compete on the student team. By rule, girls cannot compete with the boys team in the fall, then with the girls team in the winter.

SOUTHERN SECTION TO REGIONALIZE PLAYOFFS

With travel costs rising and local rivalries dwindling, the CIF Southern Section Council voted, by an overwhelming margin, to regionalize the sports of baseball, softball, volleyball, basketball, soccer and tennis for the playoff cycle starting in 1996-97. The sport of football will remain in the current playoff structure stressing competitive equity rather than regionalization.

The regionalization plan, put together by a committee chaired by Temple City High School Principal Ray Plutko, calls for a format similar to that used by the NCAA for the sport of basketball, with the Southern Section seeding the top four teams in each enrollment division and placing them in four separate regional brackets. The winners in each regional will then advance to the CIF Southern Section Final Four Championships.

Although the concept of regionalization has been approved, there are still many details to "iron out." Full plans should be available by early summer.

SCGA HOSTS FIRST EVER GOLF RULES WORKSHOP

For the first time in CIF Southern Section history, the CIF-SS and the Southern California Golf Association (SCGA) teamed up to provide member schools a chance to learn the intricacies of the rules of golf. The Golf Rules Workshop was the idea of SCGA's Director of Rules and Competitions, Jamie Conkling to allow the CIF-SS golf coaches an opportunity to "learn about the rules of golf through the use of the USGA rulebook and casebook and be able to relay the information to their athletes."

The workshop was held at the golf training facility at Saddleback College on February 1 and numerous CIF-SS golf coaches were in attendance. The workshop covered all aspects of the rules of golf, including definitions of golf terminology. Following the classroom session, the coaches stepped out to the practice facility and were given practical applications of the rules at three separate areas - the green, the hazards and the area known as "through the green."

Aiding Conkling with the workshop were John Alber, SCGA Assistant Director of Rules and Competitions; Bob Livingstone, SCGA Committeeman and member of the CIF-SS Golf Advisory Committee; and Angus MacKenzie, an LPGA Rules Official.

Special thanks goes to Bill Cunerty, Saddleback College Golf Coach and a member of the SCGA Board of Directors for allowing the use of the school's golf facility for the workshop.

For information on future golf rules workshops, please call the Southern Section office at (310) 860-2414.

KNOX NAMED CALIFORNIA SOFTBALL OFFICIAL OF THE YEAR

Erle O. Knox, a long time softball official in the CIF Southern Section, was named the California Softball Official of the Year by the National Federation Interscholastic Officials Association (NFIOA). This distinguished service award is given to the top official for a particular sport in that state.

Knox first worked a softball game in 1943 and has been a member of the NFIOA since 1950. He has officiated in all classes of softball including ISC mens fast pitch and has officiated the ASA Finals held in Stockton. Knox has also officiated football and basketball in the CIF and still referees junior high football and basketball.

Currently, Knox still umpires in the Southern Section, ASA and numerous girls leagues, and is the Instructional Chairman for the Long Beach Unit of the California Softball Officials Association. Previously, he had been on the training staffs of the San Gabriel Unit, Foothill-Citrus Unit, and the Southern Nevada Unit. He also trained for SCMAF in the late 50's and throughout the 60's.

Congratulations Erle!

CALVARY CHAPEL CLAIMS THIRD STATE WRESTLING TITLE

For the third time in four years, the ARCO am/pm State CIF Team Wrestling Championship plaque will be placed on a wall on the campus of Calvary Chapel High School of Santa Ana. In a thrilling victory, the Eagles edged out the only other team to have won the state title in the past four years, Independence High of San Jose.

In 1995, Independence edged out Calvary Chapel by a 113.5-106.5 margin. With the return of several top individuals, including 1995 champion at 125 pounds Tony Gomez, Independence was seeking a second consecutive state crown. This year, the Eagles, trailing by two and a half points going into the final round, used inspired performances by Joe Calavitta at 135 and Ty Wilcox at 152 to slide past Independence and win by the narrowest margin in the state tournament's history - 102.5-102 points. In addition to individual titles won by Calavitta and Wilcox, Matt Azevedo (third at 119), Burt Pierson (sixth at 125), and Chris Meineke (seventh at 171) also placed for the Eagles.

Calvary Chapel's third state championship is also the third for coach John Azevedo. Other than Calvary Chapel, only three other Southern Section schools have won the State Wrestling Championship - South Hills (1981), El Dorado (1982) and Victor Valley (1987).

education programs for coaches and officials. Members of the committee have already assisted school officials and students following a racially orientated incident involving two of our schools. As Dr. Kennedy so succinctly stated, "Our sole purpose is to help all of us understand people better and to respect people." Believe me, this group has already gone a long way toward accomplishing this.
