PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

JOB WELL DONE!

By Clark Stephens, President
CIF-SS Executive Committee

As your president I want to applaud and express my thanks to the Commissioner and his staff for making the recent playoff activities so successful. Congratulations also belong to the principals and athletic administrators for their fine work in preparing their schools for the playoff events.

However, in my role as a father of two sons and a daughter who have enjoyed the privilege of playing football, volleyball, basketball, and baseball in CIF competition, I want to represent all parents in expressing my profound thanks to the coaches who have poured out a significant part of their lives into the lives of our sons and daughters. All of our efforts at administration are merely in support of the ones who really get the job done, the hundreds of coaches who work with our youngsters on a daily basis.

I know we parents get caught up in the pursuit of winning games and championships. Sometimes we get carried away and forget that the thrill of winning is temporary and fades over time as other feelings take its place. We'd all like for our athletes to enjoy the wonderful feeling that winning brings. However, deep down inside, most of us know that there are greater achievements to be sought in our children. Specifically, I'm talking about the building of character. That's what I want for my students, strength of character that will serve them well for their entire life long after the thrill of winning is gone.

In my opinion, coaches make it happen in athletics. They use the context of athletic competition to teach values every day. Granted, some do it better than others, and we'd all like to be more effective at it. I can think of three values my children learned from their coaches over the years.

First. There is the value of OBEDIENCE and submission to authority. Coaches tell me this is getting harder and harder to teach given the changes we have seen in crease in dues. I really don't know how we have done it, but the last dues increase to the section membership was in 1984! We face huge costs in the near future as we seek to find a new location for the office, but we are confident that contracts like this one will allow us to continue a high level of service at a minimal cost to schools.

Ideally, we would have involved more section members in the selection of a ball sponsor. Unfortunately, the negotiations for this contract concluded very quickly and we were under a time pressure to accept the contract or possibly lose the opportunity. We chose to sign.

We believe that we can provide quality ball products to the section through Spalding and their distributors at a reasonable price. We have agreed to work with Spalding to introduce the product to coaches and let them see, firsthand, what our athletes will play with.

I welcome input on our selection, we know that Spalding is dedicated to helping us conduct our championships with the highest level of quality, in a manner that matches the quality of school in our section.

JOB

our society during our lifetimes, but we parents know that if our children do not learn to obey and respect authority, they have little chance of achieving real success in life. Athletic competition is a wonderful place to learn the importance of rules and the need to submit to someone in charge.

Second. An understanding of the value of TEAMWORK and the ability to work together with others to reach a common goal are important results of athletic competition. All good coaches work hard at uniting a bunch of individuals into a cohesive squad with a common goal. In athletics our students can learn this valuable lesson in the context of diversity of ethnic, religious, and economic backgrounds. In fact, I think this happens better in high school athletics than in any other function in our communities.

Third. Commitment. Coaches teach our students the value of COMMITMENT so that athletes learn what it means to stick with a obligation even in the face of fatigue, discouragement and hardship. When students learn that lesson they are better prepared to face real adult life and the commitments of family and business.

Obedience, teamwork, and commitment, three fundamental facets of character that coaches work for in the lives of their athletes. When coaches achieve this they are truly successful.

Coaches, your efforts and success in teaching these valuable life skills in the context of athletics is HUGE to us parents and to our communities. Congratulations and sincere thanks.

SOUTHERN SECTION MARKETING UPDATE 24 HOUR TEAM SPORTS DIRECTLY SUPPORTS STUDENT-ATHLETES

Now in their third year as a major CIF Southern Section partner and "Official Fitness Center," 24Hour Fitness has created the 24 Hour Team Sports division to provide direct support to high school athletics. The 24 Hour Team Sports was created to provide support for high school athletics in a variety of areas:

*Sponsorship of high school championship sports events.

*Interaction with the sports medicine community to ensure proper care of sports injuries.

*Create training programs for thousands of student-athletes.

*Offer training facilities at no-cost to student-athletes during the school year.

*Provide training facilities to student-athletes each summer at low cost.

In addition, since its inception in 1997, 24 Hour Team Sports has been responsible for the donation in excess of $2 million dollars of refurbished exercise equipment to high schools.

With over 220 locations to choose from, All CIF Southern Section varsity athletes, cheerleaders and pep members can utilize the 24 Hour Fitness amenities and train, free of cost, Monday through Friday from 2:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. and Saturday and Sunday from 1:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. This program can offer your student-athletes an opportunity to utilize equipment not available at your school and supplement their training individually during the off-season periods. The only stipulation is that the school coach "initially" register the team for participation in this program with the 24 Hour Fitness location of choice. That's all it takes.

Additionally, 24 Hour Fitness offers summer memberships to student-athletes for $75, just a $25 per month fee, that allows them to continue their training in a safe and modern facility when school facilities may not be available and within amateur eligibility rules. Over 11,000 student-athletes took advantage of this opportunity last summer. This program is provided to student-athletes as part of 24 Hour Fitness and 24 Hour Team Sports community support efforts to enhance the high school student-athlete experience.

For more information on how to participate in the 24 Hour Team Sports program, call (800) 499-1053.

COMMISSIONER'S CORNER

BALL CONTRACT CONCERNS

By James Staunton, Ed.D.
Commissioner of Athletics

At a recent Executive Committee meeting, our Athletic Director representatives reflected the concerns expressed by a number of coaches regarding our new contract with Spalding. They had received a number of calls critical of the Section for switching to a new product and then telling schools the time line for implementation. "Why were we not consulted?" was a common question as well as "What will happen if we do not use the Spalding ball in our playoff contests?"

Here are a few thoughts on the process of the new ball adoption and our reasons for making the switch:

1. Exclusivity for ball use in all playoff contests is an idea that has gained momentum throughout the nation. We were faced with that request regardless of what company we decided to sign with. It is now a matter of course among ball sponsors. In exchange, the values of our contracts increase.

2. Using a consistent playoff ball throughout the championships makes sense for the sake of fairness to all participants. While a coach may argue with our choice, he/she can't say that there is any unfair advantage to any other school. Additionally, we will be able to work with the manufacturer to tailor the ball to your needs, if there are complaints about quality, feel, workmanship, cost or quality.

3. Our contract is for five years. We insisted that we allow an eighteen-month adjustment period precisely so schools could use up old inventory and plan for the future. This contract is with a reputable company with quality product. It was not the most lucrative offer we received, but the one we felt would work best for our members.

4. Contracts and business partnerships are very important to section revenue. As interest in high school sports has increased, we have been able to offset tremendous cost increases without any increase in revenue. See BALL SPONSOR page 19.

HAYES TO RETIRE AS CIF EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Jack Hayes, the State CIF executive director since September 1995, has announced that he will retire from his post effective February 28, 2001. Hayes is largely responsible for the implementation of the CIF strategic plan and the shift from a rules-driven organization to one based on service to member high schools.

The CIF is the largest youth based agency in the nation, serving 1271 member schools in California. Established in 1914, and organized under the direction of local school boards, the CIF's elected membership consists of educators and school board members who represent California's 10 geographical areas (sections).

Jack has been a moving force in the CIF's shift in philosophy to an educational body that looks for ways to improve every aspect of athletics for the young students in California," said Charley Berger, CIF president and assistant superintendent for the San Juan Unified School District. "He has been an absolutely tremendous leader in so many areas and has created a great foundation for which this organization can continue to grow."

Under Hayes' leadership, the CIF has implemented the following:

- A coaching education program that has trained 7,000 coaches statewide.

- Health and safety bulletins with up-to-date information on sport specific and general health issues targeted to member schools.

- A comprehensive statewide sportsmanship program, entitled Pursuing Victory With Honor, translated into the operating principles of the organization.

- Increased minority and female representation on the CIF Federated Council and sports advisory committees.

- Established a process to recognize the achievement of women in sports, through banquets.

- Revamped the statewide appeals process for student-athletes.

- A more open communication process with allied organizations and CIF stakeholders.

A graduate of the University of San Francisco, with a master's degree in history and English, Hayes was the sixth chief executive officer of the State CIF. He began his career in education as a junior high school teacher in the San Francisco Unified School District, and taught English and social studies at Sir Francis Drake High School in the Tamalpais Union High School District between 1964-66.

As the student activities director at Tamalpais Union High School District from 1966-68, Hayes built a model student leadership program and helped initiate the first county-wide youth commission. He served as a counselor at Tamalpais Union High School District from 1968-72 during which time he worked with the State Department of Education in the development of CAP tests and designed an interdisciplinary program for "School Within A School".

In 1972, Hayes was named vice principal at Tamalpais Union High School District, where he also served as principal from 1973-77. The development of a long-term planning procedure for the school was one of the tasks for which Hayes was responsible. He also coordinated curricular and counseling programs and initiated and directed adult school and recreational programs.

From 1977-79, Hayes served as director of personnel for Tamalpais Union High School District, where he directed curriculum and staff development and worked with regional athletic governance.

Hayes was the principal at Santa Rosa City Schools from 1979-86, where he wrote many successful grants to enhance school programs and helped redefine the school governance structure. He also received recognition as the district's Outstanding Administrator of the Year, served as a presenter at conferences on curriculum and administrative training and was league president.

In 1986, Hayes became the director of secondary education for the Santa Rosa City Schools. His responsibilities included supervising secondary principals, and designing both district curriculum development procedures and district staff development procedures.

Hayes also served as the assistant superintendent of educational services for Santa Rosa City Schools, a position he held from 1987-92. In this capacity, he was involved with long-range planning process for the curricular program, led a district-wide team in high school facility design and initiated and led district restructuring resulting in development of middle schools. Prior to serving as the CIF executive director, Hayes was the superintendent of the West Sonoma County Union High School District from 1992-95. He was selected as Sonoma County Administrator of the Year in 1995.

Within the CIF, Hayes served for two terms as the president of the CIF North Coast Section Board of Managers, was a State CIF Federated Council member from 1983-91 and served as a member of the State CIF Executive Committee from 1989-91.

BALL MARK

officials must check for the mark prior to the start of competition.

Can schools continue to use existing equipment which doesn't have the mark?

Existing equipment can continue to be used in practice but, not in interscholastic competition.

Have the specifications for balls and pucks been changed?

The NFHS Authenticating Mark Program does not require any change in current ball or puck specifications, except for the addition of the authenticating mark itself. Our rules committees continue to review ball and puck specifications yearly for any appropriate changes. When and if there are changes, we will communicate them quickly and clearly to manufacturers and consumers.

What sort of standards must equipment meet to receive the Authenticating Mark?

In developing the program, the NFHS worked with coaches, athletic directors, manufacturers and distributors to develop a program that is in the best interest of everyone involved in competitive high school sports. Specific characteristics detailed by NFHS rules such as weight, circumference and length have been spelled out in clearly defined protocols to bring uniformity and consistency to the equipment.

Why did the NFHS implement the new program?
There are three important reasons.

First, the use of conforming equipment is essential to the integrity of contests played under NFHS rules. This program will help promote a level playing field by assuring consistency in the equipment being used in such competition.

Second, by requiring a modest fee to be paid by participating manufacturers for use of the Authenticating Mark, the program will generate revenue to support additional services to benefit student-athletes, athletic administrators, coaches and officials.

Finally, the mark will allow the development of more sophisticated standards in balls and pucks and clearly communicate to administrators, coaches and officials that these standards are being met.

How do manufacturers pay for the use of the Authenticating Mark?

Manufacturers whose equipment meets NFHS guidelines pay 25 cents for inflated balls and 25 cents per dozen for non-inflated balls and pucks.

Doesn't this increase the cost of the equipment?
Equipment endorsements, such as those by professional athletes, already increase equipment costs without providing any increase of services at the high school level. In this case, while this program may result in a modest increase in equipment cost, the income generated by the NFHS will provide benefits to high school sports and to participating athletes.

How is the additional revenue used?
Although the NFHS Board of Directors will make the final determination of how funds will be utilized, here are just three of the many uses currently being considered:

- Development of educational materials for coaches and officials.

- Research on sports medicine issues at the high school level.

- Promotion of participation in interscholastic programs among young people.

Who really benefits from the NFHS Authenticating Mark Program?

Everyone involved with high school sports has the opportunity to benefit from this program, but student-athletes will gain the most of all.

The NFHS Authenticating Mark Program brings a new standard of consistency to high school sports equipment. Use it and benefit from it.

GOVERNANCE ISSUES ADDRESSED THROUGHOUT STATE

As part of its governance structure review, the CIF recently held a series of meetings across the state to address the issue of how the organization is governed. The overall purpose of this review is to meet a major goal of the CIF, to govern the organization in a manner that is responsive to the needs of its constituents. Opportunities were available for constituents and stakeholder to suggest topics, or issues for discussion and/or change.

The constituents of the CIF are the 1272 member high schools of the state and their governing boards who represent 600,000 students involved in high school athletics. Various media members were also present at some of these meetings. An agenda was distributed at each meeting that highlighted four governance issues for discussion. The questions were as follows:

1. Two sections exist now that are also single leagues and are comprised of only one district. Should sections be comprised of more than one league?
2. Should private schools be aligned with public schools in the three city sections?
3. Is it time for all sections to adopt the same set of rules, thus eliminating the autonomy of the sections to have stricter rules?
4. Should the minimum number of schools comprising a section be determined? Should the maximum number be determined? Should both be determined?

A sampling of issues raised at the state-wide meetings are printed below:

- The placing of smaller schools with larger public schools in the same section.
- What is the distinction between sections and leagues?
- Why define sections by number of schools?
- Start of practice by season of sport should be the same for all.
- There should be a time frame in the school year where athletes are not competing in sports "dead period" during finals etc.
- Number of votes per section at Federated Council.
- Better define section boundaries.
- Is competitive equity defined by the size of a school (enrollment) or by the strength of a program?
- Reimbursement should be made available for all sports competing in Championship play.
- Restructuring should be done in a way that balances the voting power.
- Consider standardizing the beginning date to start of the season of sport, beginning date to begin practices, number of games (including playoffs) and the transfer rule.
- Combine Oakland Section with North Coast Section and San Francisco Section within the Central Coast Section.
- Is the Southern Section too large?
- Retain the CIF Oakland and San Francisco Sections for governance, but include these sections with the Central Coast and North Coast for playoffs.

THREE-PERSON OFFICIATING ADOPTED AT ALL LEVELS OF THE STATE BASKETBALL PLAYOFFS

The State CIF, which has utilized three-person officiating teams at the regional finals and state championships in basketball, will now expand that format to all rounds of the state basketball playoffs. This proposal passed by a 71-5 vote at the fall meeting of the State Federated Council in San Mateo.

The rationale for three-person officiating includes more consistency in tournament officiating, more opportunity for officials to work together on three-person teams before moving to the championship level, more game control and safer conditions for higher skilled athletes.

A total of 160 teams advance to the state playoffs, 80 for girls and 80 for boys.

DAHLEM INDUCTED INTO NATIONAL WRESTLING HALL-OF-FAME

Recognized for his years of service to the sport of wrestling, Dr. John Dahlem was recently named to the sports national Hall-of-Fame.

Dr. Dahlem, Principal at Loara High School and a new CIF-SS Executive Committee member, was honored for his years of dedication to the development of leadership and citizenship in young people through the sport of wrestling.

"The CIF-SS congratulates John on this tremendous honor," said Dr. Jim Staunton, Commissioner of Athletics for the CIF-SS. "Having seen his tireless dedication first hand, it is not a surprise that such an honor would be bestowed upon him."

Dr. Dahlem started and finished his coaching career at Loara from 1969 to 1984. During his time as coach, his teams won 233 matches, while losing only 36. His teams also won 10 league titles and amassed an overall league record of 53-1 (four undefeated seasons included). Loara was CIF-SS champion in 1983 and took second in 1979 and 1984.

Dr. Dahlem took league Coach-of-the-Year honors 10 times and Orange County Coach-of-the-Year during four seasons. He was named Big "A" Coach-of-the-Decade for the 1970's and was the very first inductee into the Orange County Wrestling Hall-of-Fame.

JIM WATSON HIGHLIGHTS 2000 FOOTBALL PRESS CONFERENCE

The CIF Southern Section was pleased to welcome one of the great supporters of high school athletics in Southern California as Master of Ceremonies at the 25th Annual Football Press Luncheon held at The Grand in Long Beach on December 4, 2000.

Watson, of Fox Sports Net, emceed the conference, which is intended to bring together the coaches and several players who participated in the championship contests of the 13 divisions of football, with the representatives of the local media. In addition, the champions of the 8-man divisions were in attendance.

Watson is in his fourth season as a play-by-play announcer for college basketball and high school athletics on FOX Sports Net West and FOX Sports Net West 2. Watson announces USC and UCLA women's basketball games as well as handling the play-by-play for other Pac-10 athletics. His other duties include play-by-play announcer for the "High School Game of the Week" on FOX Sports West 2 and occasional co-host of "Clippers Courtside," "Lakers Live," "Dodgers Dugout," the pre-game shows of the Los Angeles Clippers, Los Angeles Lakers, and Los Angeles Dodgers.

He is also the host of, "Inside Cal-High Sports," which is a magazine-style show that profiles high school student-athletes and teams in Southern California. His work on the show has awarded him with consecutive L.A. Emmy Award's in 1998 and 1999 as "Best Sports Series." Watson began his broadcasting career at Orange County NewsChannel, where he spent five years producing and anchoring four weekend sportscasts. He also hosted "OCN Sportstalk," a live 30 minute talk show featuring in-studio guests, viewer call-ins and highlights.

Watson talked to the group about the excitement of high school athletics and the importance television plays with it. He also talked of the great athletes that have come out of the section in just the short time he has been covering sports in Southern California. Watson also applauded the CIF-SS for the outstanding job the section does in putting on championship events, like the football title game.

The press conference gives the media an excellent opportunity for advanced interviews, as well as for the meeting of coaches and players of teams they may not usually cover. It is also a great way of promoting sportsmanship between the competing teams, by allowing the players to meet each other in a friendly environment.

Also on hand at the press conference were Clark Stephens, President of the CIF-SS Council, as well as Dr. Jim Staunton, Commissioner of Athletics, Rob Wigod, Assistant Commissioner and administrator of football, Karen Hellyer, Assistant Commissioner and Paul Castillo, Assistant Commissioner along with numerous corporate sponsors.

MARK

Starting last season, balls and pucks used in interscholastic competition were required to feature the new Authenticating Mark of the National Federation of State High School Associations (NFHS).

This mark helps ensure that high school athletic competition is fairer, more consistent and less hazardous for everyone involved.

It also represents a new opportunity for student-athletes, coaches and officials to benefit from additional educational services and expanded research programs as a result of revenue generated by the authenticating program.

The following is a list of question and answer topics with regard to this rule.

When DID the program take effect?
All balls and pucks used in interscholastic competition were required to carry the NFHS Authenticating Mark beginning with the fall semester of the 1999-2000 school year.

What balls and pucks are required to carry the Authenticating Mark?
All balls and pucks used in competition governed under NFHS rules must carry the NFHS Authenticating Mark. This specifically includes: Baseballs, Hockey Pucks, Basketballs, Soccer Balls, Field Hockey Balls, Softballs, Footballs, Volleyballs, and Water Polo Ball.

Does the mark change the appearance of the equipment?
Not in any noticeable way. The new Authenticating Mark is visible on the equipment but proportioned to appear unobtrusively on balls of various sizes.

Who is responsible for checking the equipment to ensure compliance?
Coaches and athletic directors are responsible for making sure that their teams are legally and properly equipped with balls featuring the Authenticating Mark. Game

LONG BEACH POLY SETS TONE FOR SPORTSMANSHIP AND FAIR PLAY BEFORE THE CONTEST

The tone for sportsmanship and fair play is set prior to play at Long Beach Poly High School. A new policy of greeting the opponent and shaking hands before a game has been a positive addition to the sports program.

"It's amazing how player handshakes set the tone. It's a very powerful message," said Joe Carlson, athletic director at Long Beach Poly. "The athletes are positive about this and view sportsmanship as something very important."

Not only are athletes involved, but the student commission, cheer squad and team mascots from both schools form a united circle while sportsmanship messages are read over the public address system. Then the football team lines up opposite the visiting school and proceeds to the center of the field to shake hands. Another sportsmanship message is then read to spectators asking for their support in promoting fair play and good sportsmanship.

Long Beach Poly will continue this sportsmanship process during volleyball and basketball and in all contests where a public address system is available. In addition the Moore League has taken Long Beach Poly's lead in developing the pre-game handshake for all teams in the league. The Moore League also conducts two sports summits where coaches and athletes meet to discuss sportsmanship issues.

Several individuals have been instrumental in developing this process including Mel Collins, the co-principal at Long Beach Poly and Terry Speir, an activity specialist at Long Beach Poly.

ADDITIONAL ENTRY ADDED TO EACH WRESTLING WEIGHT CLASS

Effective for the 2001 CIF State Wrestling Championships, an additional entrant shall be added to each weight class expanding the total entries per class from 32 to 33. This expansion will be accommodated by the creation of an out-bracket in each weight class. The tournament will continue to operate in the standard double elimination format for all weight classes.

One CIF section will receive the additional entrant for all weight classes, which will be determined through application of the equation used by the Wrestling Advisory Committee biannually in determining section entries. The entry equation analyzes state championship place winners by CIF section from the most recent four state championship tournaments.

The new procedure will allow a section to gain one additional entry without displacing an entry from another CIF section. Prior to adoption, no section could earn an additional entry (by virtue of an improved average record of place winners) unless another section lost an entry (by virtue of a reduction in the place-winner's scoring over the previous four years).
