James Stauton, Ed.D., Commissioner of Athletics

Our society during our lifetimes, but we parents know that if our children do not learn to obey and respect authority, they have little chance of achieving real success in life. Athletic competition is a wonderful place to learn the importance of rules and the need to submit to someone in charge.

Second. An understanding of the value of TEAMWORK and the ability to work together with others to reach a common goal are important results of athletic competition. All good coaches work hard at uniting a bunch of individuals into a cohesive squad with a common goal. In athletics our students can learn this valuable lesson in the context of diversity of ethnic, religious, and economic backgrounds. In fact, I think this happens better in high school athletics than in any other function in our communities.

Third. Commitment. Coaches teach our students the value of COMMITMENT so that athletes learn what it means to stick with a obligation even in the face of fatigue, discouragement and hardship. When students learn that lesson they are better prepared to face real adult life and the commitments of family and business.

Obedience, teamwork, and commitment, three fundamental facets of character that coaches work for in the lives of their athletes. When coaches achieve this they are truly successful.

Coaches, your efforts and success in teaching these valuable life skills in the context of athletics is HUGE to us parents and to our communities. Congratulations and sincere thanks.

SOUTHERN SECTION MARKETING UPDATE

Now in their third year as a major CIF Southern Section partner and “Official Fitness Center,” 24HourFitness has created the 24 Hour Team Sports division to provide direct support to high school athletics.

The 24 Hour Team Sports was created to provide support for high school athletics in a variety of areas:

* Sponsorship of high school championship events

* Interaction with the sports medicine community to ensure proper care of sports injuries

* Create training programs for thousands of student-athletes. Oﬀer training facilities at no-cost to student-athletes during the school year.

* Provide training facilities to student-athletes each summer at low cost.

In addition, since its inception in 1997, 24 Hour Team Sports has been responsible for the donation in excess of $2 million dollars of refurbished exercise equipment to high schools.

With over 220 locations to choose from, all CIF Southern Section varsity athletes, cheerleaders and pep members can utilize the 24 Hour Fitness amenities and train, free of cost, Monday through Friday from 2:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. and Saturday and Sunday from 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. from September through June. This program can offer your student-athletes an opportunity to utilize equipment not available at your school and supplement their training individually during the off-season periods.

The only stipulation is that the school coach “initially” register the team for participation in the program with the 24 Hour Fitness location of choice. That’s all it takes.

Additionally, 24 Hour Fitness offers summer memberships to student-athletes for $75, just a $25 per month fee, that allow them to continue their training in a safe and moderate facility when school facilities may not be available and within amateur eligibility rules. Over 11,000 student-athletes took advantage of this opportunity last summer. This program is provided to student-athletes as part of 24 Hour Fitness and 24 Hour Team Sports community support efforts to enhance the high school student-athlete experience.

For more information on how to participate in the 24 Hour Team Sports program, call (800) 499-1053.

COMMISSIONER’S CORNER

By James Staunton, Ed.D. Commissioner of Athletics

At a recent Executive Committee meeting, our Athletic Director representatives re-acted the concerns expressed by a number of coaches regarding our new contract with Spalding. They had received a number of complaints about the Section for switching to a new product and then telling schools the time line for implementation. “Why were we not consulted?” was a common question as well as “What will happen if we do not use the Spalding ball in our playoff contests?”

Here are a few thoughts on the process of the new ball adoption and our reasons for making the switch:

1. Exclusivity for ball in all playoff contests is a idea that has gained momentum throughout the nation. We were faced with that request regardless of what company we decided to sign with. It is now a matter of being among ball sponsors. In exchange, the values of our contracts increase.

2. Using a consistent playoff ball throughout the championships makes sense for the sake of fairness to all participants. While a coach may argue with our choice, he/she can’t say that there is unfair advantage to any other school. Additionally, we will be able to work with the manufacturer to tailor the ball to your needs, if there are complaints about quality, feel, workmanship, cost or quality.

3. Our contract is for five years. We insisted that we allow an eighteen-month adjustment period preciously so schools could make use of the new ball inventory and plan for the future. This contract is with a reputable company with a solid product. It was not the worst offer we received, but the one we felt would work best for our members.

4. Contracts and business partnerships are very important to section revenue. As interest in high school sports has increased, we have been able to offset tremendous cost increases without any increase in our SPONSOR page 19

BALL CONTRACT CONCERNS
HAYES TO RETIRE AS CIF EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Jack Hayes, the State CIF executive director since September 1995, has announced that he will retire from his post effective February 28, 2001. Hayes is largely responsible for the implementation of the CIF’s strategic plan and the shift from a rules-driven organization to one based on service to member high schools.

The CIF is the largest youth-based agency in the nation, serving 1271 member schools in California. Established in 1914, and organized under the direction of local school boards, the CIF’s elected membership consists of educators and school board members who represent California’s 10 geographical areas (sections).

Hayes has been a moving force in the CIF’s shift in philosophy to an educational body that looks for ways to improve every aspect of athletics for the young students in California, said Charley Berger, CIF president and assistant superintendent for the San Juan Unified School District. “He has been an absolutely tremendous leader in so many areas and has created a great foundation for which this organization can continue to grow.”

Under Hayes’ leadership, the CIF has implemented the following:

A coaching education program that has trained 7,000 coaches statewide.
Health and safety bulletins with up-to-date information on sport specific and general health issues targeted to member schools.
A comprehensive statewide sportsmanship program, entitled Pursuing Victory With Honor, translated into the operating principles of the organization.

Increased minority and female representation on the CIF Federated Council and sports advisory committees.

Established a process to recognize the achievement of women in sports, through banquets.

Revamped the state-wide appeals process for student-athletes.

A more open communication process with allied organizations and CIF stake-holders.

A graduate of the University of San Francisco, with a master’s degree in history and English, Hayes was the sixth chief executive officer of the State CIF. He began his career in education as a junior high school teacher in the San Francisco Unified School District, and taught English and social studies at Sir Francis Drake High School in the Tamalpais Union High School District between 1964-66.

As the student activities director at Tamalpais Union High School District from 1966-68, Hayes built a model student leadership program and helped initiate the first county-wide youth commission. He served as a counselor at Tamalpais Union High School District from 1968-72 during which time he worked with the State Department of Education in the development of CAP tests and designed an interdisciplinary program for “School Within A School.”

In 1972, Hayes was named vice principal at Tamalpais Union High School District, where he also served as principal from 1973-77. The development of a long-term planning procedure for the school was one of the tasks for which Hayes was responsible. He also coordinated curricular and counseling programs and initiated and directed adult school and recreational programs. From 1977-79, Hayes served as director of personnel at Tamalpais Union High School District, where he directed curriculum and staff development and worked with regional athletic governance.

Hayes was the principal at Santa Rosa City Schools from 1979-86, where he wrote many successful grants to enhance school programs and helped redefine the school governance structure. He also received recognition as the district’s Outstanding Administrator of the Year, served as a presenter at conferences on curriculum and administrative training and was league president.

In 1986, Hayes became the director of secondary education for the Santa Rosa City Schools. His responsibilities included supervising secondary principals, and designing both district curriculum development procedures and district staff development procedures.

Hayes also served as the assistant superintendent of educational services for Santa Rosa City Schools, a position he held from 1987-92. In this capacity, he was involved with long-range planning process for the curricular program, led a district-wide team in high school facility design and initiated and led district restructuring resulting in development of middle schools.

Prior to serving as the CIF executive director, Hayes was the superintendent of the West Sonoma County Union High School District from 1992-95. He was selected as Sonoma County Administrator of the Year in 1995.

Within the CIF, Hayes served for two terms as the president of the CIF North Coast Section Board of Managers, was a State CIF Federated Council member from 1983-91 and served as a member of the State CIF Executive Committee from 1989-91.

14. REVIEW BLUE BOOK CHANGES — Karen Hellyer, Assistant Commissioner, reviewed the Committee the synopsis of the 2000-01 Blue Book changes.

15. Ball Mark

Ministers must check for the mark prior to the start of the competition.

Can schools continue to use existing equipment which does not have the mark?

Existing equipment can continue to be used in practice but, not in interscholastic competition.

How should the specifications for balls and pucks be changed?

The NFHS Authenticating Mark Program does not require any change in current ball or puck specifications, except for the addition of the authenticating mark itself. Our rules committees continue to review ball and puck specifications yearly for any inappropriate changes.

When and if there are changes, we will communicate them quickly and clearly to manufacturers and consumers.

What sort of standards must equipment meet to receive the Authenticating Mark?

Manufacturers whose equipment meets NFHS guidelines pay 25 cents for inflated balls and 25 cents per dozen for non-inflated balls and pucks.

Does this increase the cost of the equipment?

Equipment endorsements, such as those by professional athletes, already increase equipment costs without providing any increase of services at the high school level. In this case, while the program may result in a modest increase in equipment cost, the increase will be offset by the NFHS will provide benefits to high school sports and to participating athletes.
GOVERNANCE ISSUES ADDRESSED THROUGHOUT STATE

As part of its governance structure review, the CIF recently held a series of meetings across the state to address the issue of how the organization is governed. The overall purpose of this review is to meet a major goal of the CIF, to govern the organization in a manner that is responsive to the needs of its constituents.

Opportunities were available for constituents and stakeholders to suggest topics or issues for discussion and/or change.

The constituents of the CIF are the 1272 member high schools of the state and their governing boards who represent 600,000 students involved in high school athletics. Various media members were also present at some of these meetings. An agenda was distributed at each meeting that highlighted four governance issues for discussion. The questions were as follows:

1. Two sections exist now that are single leagues and are comprised of only one district. Should sections be comprised of more than one league?

2. Should private schools be aligned with public schools in the three city sections?

3. Is it time for all sections to adopt the same set of rules, thus eliminating the autonomy of the sections to have stricter rules?

4. Should the minimum number of schools comprising a section be determined? Should the maximum number be determined? Should both be determined?

DAHLMEYER INDUCTED INTO NATIONAL WRESTLING HALL-OF-FAME

Recognized for his years of service to the sport of wrestling, Dr. John Dahlmeyer was recently named to the sports national Hall- of-Fame.

Dr. Dahlmeyer, Principal at Laora High School and a new CIF-SS Executive Committee member, was honored for his years of dedication to the development of leadership and citizenship in young people through the sport of wrestling.

The CIF-SS congratulates John on this tremendous honor,” said Dr. Jim Stauion, Commissioner of Athletics for the CIF-SS. “Having seen his tireless dedication first hand, it is not a surprise that such an honor would be bestowed upon him.”

Dr. Dahlmeyer started and finished his coaching career at Laora from 1969 to 1984. During his time as coach, his teams won 233 matches and amassed a 539-16-10 record.

His teams also won 10 league titles and amassed an overall league record of 539-16-10. After four seasons as a head coach at Laora, Dahlmeyer was CIF-SS Champion in 1983 and took second in 1979 and 1984.

Dahlmeyer took league coach-of-the-Year honors in 10 times and Orange County Coach-of-the-Year during four seasons.

He was named Big “A” Coach-of-the-De- cade for the 1970’s and was the very first Inductee into the Orange County Wrestling Hall-Of-Fame.

JIM WATSON HIGHLIGHTS 2000 FOOTBALL PRESS CONFERENCE

The CIF Southern Section was pleased to welcome one of the great supporters of high school athletics in Southern Californi- a, as he was introduced at the Annual Football Press Luncheon held at the Grand in Long Beach on December 4, 2000.

Winston, of Fox Sports Network, announced the conference, which is intended to bring together the coaches and several players who participated in the championship con- tests of the 13 divisions of football, with the representatives of the local media. In addi- tion, the champions of the 8-man divisions were in attendance.

Winston is in his fourth season as a play- by-play announcer for college and high school athletics. His network includes USC and UCLA women’s basketball games as well as playing the play-by-play for co-Pac-10 athletics. His other duties include play-by- play announcer for the “High School Game of the Week” on FOX Sports West and occasional co-host of “Clippers Courtside,” “Lakers Live,” “Dodgers Dogcast,” the pre- game shows of the Los Angeles Clippers, Los Angeles Lakers, and Los Angeles Dodgers.

He is also the host of “In-Aisle High-Sports,” which is a magazine-style show that profiles high school student-athletes and teams in Southern California. His work on the show has awarded him the Con- secutive EMA, Emmy Award’s in 1998 and 1999 as “Best Sports Series.”

Winston began his broadcasting career at Orange County NewsChannel, where he spent five years producing and anchoring the Orange County High School Football and sports casts. He also hosted “OCN SportsTalk,” a live 30 minute talk show featuring in-studio guests, viewer calls, and highlights.

Winston talked to the group about the excite- ment of high school athletics and the im- portance television plays with it. He also talked about the great athletes that arose out of the section in just the short time he has been covering sports in Southern Califor- nia. Winston also applauded the CIF-SS for the outstanding job the section does in putting on championship events, like the football title game.

The press conference gives the media an excellent opportunity for advanced inter- views, as well as for the meeting of coaches and players of teams they may not usually cover. It is also a great way of promoting sportsmanship between the competing teams, by allowing the players to meet each other in a friendly environment.

Also on hand at the press conference were Clark Stephens, President of the CIF-SS Council, as well as Dr. Jim Stauion, Commis- sioner of Athletics, Rob Weller, Asst- ant Commissioner and administrator of football, Karen Hefley, Assistant Commis- sioner and Paul Castillo, Assistant Commis- sioner along with numerous corporate sponsors.

THREE-PERSON OFFICIATING ADOPTED AT ALL LEVELS OF THE STATE BASKETBALL PLAYOFFS

The State CIF, which has utilized three- person officiating teams at the regional finals and state championships in basket- ball, will now expand that format to all rounds of the state basketball playoffs. This proposal passed by a 71-5 vote at the fall meeting of the State Federated Council in San Mateo.

The rationale for three-person officiating includes more consistency in tournament officiating, more opportunity for officials to work together on three-person teams before moving to the championship level, more game control and safer conditions for higher skilled athletes.

A total of 160 teams advance to the state playoffs, 80 for girls and 80 for boys.
LONG BEACH POLY SETS TONE FOR SPORTSMANSHIP AND FAIR PLAY BEFORE THE CONTEST

The tone for sportmanship and fair play is set prior to play at Long Beach Poly High School. A new policy of greeting of the opponent and shaking hands before a game has been a positive addition to the sports program.

"It's amazing how player handshakes set the tone. It's a very powerful message," said Joe Carlson, athletic director at Long Beach Poly. "The athletes are positive about this and view sportmanship as something very important."

Effectivce for the 2001 CIF State Wrestling Championships, an additional entrant shall be added to each weight class equal to the total number of entries per class from 32 to 33. This expansion will be accompanied by the creation of an out-basket in each weight class. The tournament will continue to operate in the standard double elimination format for all weight classes.

ONE CIF SECTION will receive the additional entrant for all weight classes, which will be added to the total number of entries per class. The expansion is part of the expansion of the CIF-SS Executive Committee on January 22, 1998, to include the state wrestling section.

The new policy will allow a section to gain one additional entry without displacing an existing state wrestling weight class. The new policy is effective for the 2001 CIF Section wrestling championships.
