Ninety-five players (46 on offense and 49 on defense) have been named to the 1978 Division I All-Southern California Team. Big Five Conference Champion Fountain Valley (34-17 over Servite) landed five players in this year's honor team, three on the offensive unit and two on the defense. As noted above, the Barons' senior QB Gil Compton was an MVP candidate.

Temple City, which won its third straight CIF grid title and 7th in the past nine years, also landed five all-star spots as champions of the Eastern Conference. The Rams placed two performers on the offense and three defensively. They disposed of Neff, Suburban League Champion, 6-0. In this year's Eastern Conference playoff the Rams beat Glendale (49-12), Arroyo (40-6) and Burroughs of Burbank (34-31) before snuffing out Neff's title hopes.

El Modena wound up as Southern Conference Champion 20-6 over Pacifica. Three Vanguards are on the honor teams. And, as noted above, Coastal Conference honors went to the Compton Tarbabes in overtime over Arcadia, 21-14. In the three previous playoff encounters, Compton shut out Camarillo (35-0), Channel Islands (20-0) and Wilson of Long Beach (10-0). Fifty-three high schools are represented from the four conferences.

This marks the second year that All-Southern California Board of Athletics has selected its All-Southern California grid teams in three divisions. Sports journalists representing newspapers throughout Southern California have selected prep all-star teams in the four major sports dating back to 1937...under the banner of the Citizens Savings Athletic Foundation. These teams are on file in the Athletic Foundation Library...open to the public for research purposes without charge.
